ACRYLIC ON CANVAS

Acrylic painting is a modern medium for artistic expression which attracts artists with its dominant bright colours, sharp brushstrokes and lines. It offers the artist a wide range of approaches, providing a wealth of creative potential for artistic innovation and fresh new ideas. This acrylic painting, depicting a monk finding refuge in Lord Buddha, is the artist's attempt to visually translate her feelings. Intrigued and inspired by Buddhist art, she paints Siddhārtha Gautam with doves in the background which are symbolic of love and peace.

Founder Chairman, Unison Group

(22nd September, 1951 - 23rd February, 2009)

*The soul is birthless, eternal, imperishable and timeless and is

FOUNDER'S VISION

Unison World School is an edifice of faith. It is the crystallisation of the dream of our Founder Chairman, Late Shri Naveen Agarwal Ji.

He was a great visionary with tremendous personal charisma. He possessed profound wisdom and nobility that always stood the test of time. He pioneered the Unison Group's involvement in education.

He was greatly inspired by the words of Mahatma Gandhi; 'When you educate a boy, you educate an individual, but when you educate a girl you educate a family'.

He sought to bring about holistic development in each student and make her 'Sarva Gunn Sampann' so that she learns to strike a balance between her personal and professional life.

His vision encompassed:

- To make Unison World School, a continuously evolving and learning community of empowered young minds and staff by creating synergy through mutual exchange of ideas and thoughts.
- To create endowed global citizens who think creatively and laterally; beyond the regular and those who are self-motivated and self-directed.
- To impart world class education by providing a balance of academic, aesthetic, artistic and social opportunities thereby encouraging the student to lift her aspirations to the highest level of capabilities and interests.
- To create a safe and supportive environment that involves each student in a wide range of learning experiences.
- To create new benchmarks in the field of value based education that blends modern outlook with a rich value system.

From the Principal's Desk

Quintessence takes you down the memory lane. Mine being very recent, the Quintessential lenses only show me the year that just zipped past. While the nation debated the Citizenship Amendment Act, the reorganization of Jammu & Kashmir and the Instant Triple Talaq, closer home there was peace abound with industry, I thanked God for the bright world, for the sunshine on the hills for the mist on the flowers, all singing praises to Nature's abundance.

Since its inception, the School has traversed several notches of ascent while preparing its students for the world. Veterans have paved way to a secure transition, while safeguarding its culture and ethos, and at the same time embracing new prospects with open arms.

2019 left us with an overwhelming wealth of experiences, the hectic April term started with the 6th World Scholars' Cup immersing the school in a frenzy of events. We were hosts to the two day environmental Earth Summit – Dhara Hari closely followed by a star studded 3 day Cultural Extravaganza – Spic Macay State Convention. This was interspersed with several scholastic, co-scholastic and sporting interschool events that we played hosts to, besides participating in a multitude of others.

Our Annual Prize Distribution Function found eminent luminaries of Sports and Academia, Dr.

(Mrs.) Deepa Malik and Mr. Sonam Wangchuk went all out to appreciate the School Sports Programmes and the resplendent School Musical and Annual Production 'Navras', respectively.

Every 'goodbye' rewards you with a new 'Hello', while the year that went past had us reminiscing sweet memories, right at its onset, 2020 rocked and jostled the entire world by this chaos called Covid-19.

As the world still grapples through the pandemic with medical breakthroughs and administrative flattening of the curve, one wonders at the periodicity of pandemics. Is it nature's way to contain the reckless downward spiral that the world had assumed?

I however, take solace in the positives that have emerged.

With a changed pace of life, we are blessed to breathe a comparatively purer air and are now better connected with our families, the ages old best practices of hand hygiene have found reaffirmation and most of all, it is the ed-tech revolution which has given the education industry its due credence. New waves of software tools and platforms have emerged aiding a smooth shift from physical to the virtual classroom.

A resilient, spirited academia, coupled with tech advancement gave much needed respite to students, cooped up at home. The timeless, ageless tenets of learning resurrected like the phoenix in an all new 'avatar'. Unison World School spear-headed itself in online learning early in April and took off with a virtual élan.

Establishing supremacy of creativity over disruption, with new-fangled ideas and an ever brimming cup of talent, our spirited staff and students, ensured smooth conduct of several Inter school events including the school annual function.

All pursuits have been a result of the sweat and toil of our enterprising Uthenas and their supportive mentors who put their all in the ardent planning and organization of these quests to success. Thus upholding and strengthening my belief in the school motto 'Honour, Discipline and Integrity'. The constant support of our management helps us to move ever onward. May the hamlet of this assiduous community find a yet higher perch.

I hope and pray to see all of us safe and healthy on the other side of the pandemic, as we have learnt from Virgil, "Yield not to calamity but to face her boldly". For, "Out of suffering have emerged the strongest souls; the most massive characters are seared with scars" ~ Khalil Gibran.

With Best Wishes
Divya Dwivedi

FROM THE EDITOR

A new term marks the beginning of new possibilities and ventures, and it is with great delight we present the latest edition of the annual school magazine, Quintessence, a rendition of the pursuits and performances of the students. This year too, the students have demonstrated excellence across various spheres. Overcoming the challenges of remote learning, the students spared no effort in making the most efficient use of the resources and opportunities available to them. Encompassing both academic and non-academic enrichment, Uthenas with their dedication and drive, have added several accomplishments to an already long list of accolades acclaimed by the school. The forthcoming pages of the magazine will acquaint you with the invincible spirit of every Uthena.

Publications has been at the very heart of this prosperous student community, acknowledging and appreciating the exceptional percipience of Uthenas. The literary works of the students in the past years is reflective of the diversity the UWS community prides itself on; both in terms of culture and approach. Exploring these contributions has been a rewarding experience. Witnessing their magnificent expressions, ingenious narrative styles, and the multifarious content has enabled me to appreciate fresh perspectives in a society. Their work is distinctly indicative of the culture developing in the school; one that encourages mutual support and assistance, discovers untapped potential, and forbids the shackles of intimidation restricting them from the adventures of exploration. Such progress would have been unattainable without the hard work and resolution of the students to push forward, accentuated by the sagacious counsel of their teachers.

In acknowledging the diligence of the UWS community, I also take this opportunity to appreciate the efforts of the members of the Editorial Board in working fervently to successfully bring out this term's magazine, despite the impediments of an unusual and a challenging work environment.

Further, amidst the clamour of this pandemic, publishing Quintessence would not have been possible without the constant support and guidance of our Principal and teachers, who worked relentlessly to accomplish the unattainable. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to the management for their unceasing support.

The journey of the Editorial Board of 2020 created several memories and experiences. The skills and virtues learnt from the same shall be treasured by everyone involved in the years to come. Quintessence is more than a school magazine, it is the embodiment of every students' staunch commitment to perseverance and endeavour. It is the representation of an ironclad school spirit; one that will not fail to chart an illustrious history in the hallowed walls of this prestigious institution and beyond.

I Can. is a values-based student development program allowing groups of inquisitive, young minds to gain insights and skills through specialized learning. It gives students an opportunity to grow out from their shells and explore the vast range of activities and interesting ways of learning. The student participants were divided into various entities, namely Political Parties, Media Houses, Corporate Houses, CSR and Entrepreneurs.

During these two days, the students experienced an amalgamation of the various concepts that are uniquely combined to enjoy while learning. Day 1 started off with great energy and a plethora of creative ideas from the students. High bids were set by young Corporate House CEOs. Political Parties contested elections and formed a government. Also, the Media Houses interviewed other CEOs and published innovative newspapers, made creative advertisements. The first day of the conference closed with video screenings, elections, pumped up music and a jam session.

The second day poured out a lot of activities, screening of videos and declaration of results. The I Can. Conference came to an end with performances by the students. They received awards for their excellent performance in multiple categories like Best CEO, Political Party, Media House, Best Parliamentarian to name a few. The best of CSR and Entrepreneurship departments were also given cash rewards as a seed fund to work and initiate their business idea. Overall, the conference was a comprehensive and a memorable learning experience for the students.

Annual Day

THE PRINCIPAL'S ANNUAL REPORT

As Anthony J. D'Angelo says, “Develop a passion for learning. For if you do, you will never cease to grow.” At Unison World School, we try to do just that; kindle a spark.

Good evening, Mr. Sonam Wangchuk, Engineer and education reformist, Founding Director of SECMOL (Students' Educational and Cultural Movement of Ladakh) and the Chief Guest for our 12th Annual Prize Distribution Function today.

I accord a very warm welcome to respected Mr. Amit Agarwal Ji, Chairman Unison World School, Mrs. Bhawna Agarwal Ji and Mrs. Meghna Aggarwal Ji, our Founder Principal, Mrs. Veena Singh Ji, distinguished guests, parents, representatives of the media, dear alumni, staff members & their families, and my dear students.

It is an honour to have you all here for the 12th Annual Prize Distribution Function of Unison World School. At the outset I wish to welcome Mr. Sonam Wangchuk our Chief Guest. It is indeed a matter of rare honour and proud privilege for Unison World School, to have Mr. Wangchuk as the Chief Guest at our 12th Annual Prize Distribution Function. At this point in time, may I formally congratulate him on his being the recipient of the 2018 Ramon Magsaysay Award!

Mr. Sonam Wangchuk – born in 1966 did his early years of learning under the wise and practical care of his mother. So, his most important formative years were spent under the protective mother's loving umbrella – that is where he strengthened his values from.

Then, at the age of 9 he went to a formal school in Srinagar, as he looked slightly different, he was faced with discrimination, a common place phenomenon at schools. Having withstood that treatment with resilience, Mr. Wangchuk grew up to have a self-driven thought process and belief system. He stood by his tougher choice of Mechanical Engineering as compared to Civil Engineering for which his father would have very conveniently funded him – but to stand by his choice Mr. Wangchuk chose to work and earn for his degree in Mechanical Engineering. He taught High school students and, in the process, he got all the more close and rooted to his beloved motherland – Leh Ladakh and Mother Earth.

Adversity is the mother of invention and braving adversity with objectivity and courage is what Mr. Wangchuk did. He has made significant contribution to the lives of people living in harsh conditions at sub-zero temperatures in the mountains. He has helped to design and build several passive solar mud buildings in mountain regions of Ladakh, Nepal and Sikkim to save energy. Mr. Wangchuk is an achiever; he knows that there are no quick fix solutions to any problems, he is a man of the soil and believes that the solution lies in the problem itself. The simplicity of his thoughts and the ‘CAN DO’ attitude has been a boon for the people of Ladakh – the perennial problem of water shortage in the summer months was tackled in such a simplistic manner – it's unimaginable – the ice stupa is an innovative concept which is the brain child of Mr. Sonam Wangchuk. He and his team constructed a two-storey prototype of an ice stupa in 2014, which could store around 1,50,000 litres of winter stream water to be used later during the months of April & May. It is perhaps a possible solution to the grave environmental challenge of melting glaciers and a simple remedy to water shortage during summer months. India Post has released a Special Postal Stamp Cover on Ice Stupas of Ladakh in March 2019.

As Mr. Wangchuk rightly says – “If people in the big cities lived simply – the people in the mountains will simply LIVE....”

Mr. Sonam Wangchuk is the recipient of the coveted Ramon Magsaysay award of 2018. For all his path-breaking achievements, Mr. Sonam Wangchuk has been awarded at various platforms, notably ‘the ICA Honour Award 2017, San Francisco, CA’, the GQ Men of the Year Awards, Social Entrepreneur of the Year, 2017, Rolex Award for Enterprise, 2016, International Terra Award for best earth building, 2016, UNESCO Chair Earthen Architecture, by CRATerre France, 2014, and many more. He is here so that young children sitting here would someday read about him and draw inspiration. He is here as an example for those youngsters who have a desire to better their homeland. He is here to show that even the unimaginable and unachievable at the first sight is attainable with determination and perseverance.

We are greatly honoured with your extremely illustrious presence in our midst. On behalf of the Unison World School family, we welcome you Sir!

Our Founder Chairman, Late Shri Naveen Agarwal Ji believed in a system of education that gives importance to integrity, humility, respect, discipline and a positive attitude, thus, empowering the girls to face the challenges of life with confidence.

His vision was to nurture and prepare generations of individuals who would be the torch bearers of tomorrow- who have conviction in the strength of their beliefs and take pride in being an Indian. He was a great visionary with incredible personal charisma.

That vision and the right amount of care and toil has borne fruit and we at UWS are the beneficiaries of their sweat and toil. He has been the guiding light in all our endeavours. All our actions are in harmony with those envisioned by our wise founder & Chairman.

Having got into a Principal's shoes and delivering my first report – I feel both fortunate and humbled. Firstly, I think I am truly blessed to have inherited this rich legacy of educational excellence from my predecessor Mrs. Veena Singh.

The architecture, the vast expanse of the campus, the rich flora and fauna and my wonderful colleagues, all suggest a happy coexistence and inspire one to achieve standards par excellence.

The Annual Prize Distribution Function is an important milestone in the annual school calendar. Not only does it give us an opportunity to acknowledge the efforts put in by our students throughout the past year, but the students, parents, alumni and guests also get to witness the best of activities and go around and feel the pulse of the school first hand and that, ladies and gentlemen, speaks louder than a thousand reports. I hope not to bore you with detailed data and analyses. Most of it is there on a regular basis on the school Facebook page and website. However, I will be touching upon a few areas briefly.

Academic Achievements

In the words of Kofi Annan – “Education is a human right with immense power to transform. On its foundation rest the cornerstones of freedom, democracy and sustainable human development.”

We truly believe this and live by it. Year after year we continue to raise the benchmark and our students diligently strive to win laurels in every field. The academic achievement of our students is our biggest strength. In the Academic Session 2018-2019, they proved their mettle yet again, by achieving an outstanding result of 100% First Divisions in the ICSE and ISC Examination.

96% of the ICSE students and 100% of the ISC students scored distinctions in the overall aggregate.

The ICSE topper was Yashvi Tikmani with a whopping 98.00%, closely followed by Ananya Khemka with 97.20% and Ritvi Jain securing 96.60%.

The performance of the students in ISC was commendable too. The topper in the Science stream was Rokshar Naz with 95.75%, followed by Komal Nehra with 90.25% and Anugya Goel securing 83.00%. Yashika Mittal topped the Commerce stream with 95.50%, closely followed by Charu Agrawal with 95.25% and Vrinda Agarwal at 94.50%. Ashi Modi and Janhvi Gupta topped the Humanities Stream with 93.25%, followed by Ritika Barua at 91.25%.

In the International Curriculum of the University of Cambridge Examination, Vidushi Bisht got ‘A*’ in 3 Subjects. Mannat Saharan secured the first position in the ‘A’ Level Y1 Examination.

Education teaches you values of democracy and rights – with rights come responsibilities. The school community is led by student leaders for which we have the school Prefectorial Council and individual core committees for every activity and club. This kind of exposure to leadership helps every girl find her true spirit and gives her a taste of life outside the secure environment of the school.

Children learn to take ownership and responsibility when they organize events and therefore feel accountable for the same.

Our school calendar is replete with inter-school events which we host and numerous others which we participate in at the district, state, national and international level.

To name a few important events hosted and participated in by UWS this year are:

International Exchange Programmes & Excursions

Our school encourages students to have a truly global perspective. It helps one understand and perceive one's own identity and that of others with whom one interacts - therefore shaping culture. UWS exposes its students to multiple experiences through international visits and exchange programmes. We have three exchange Partners:

Ms. Tanya Khanna is a professional nutritionist who in collaboration with the school Doctor, advises and talks to children besides guiding the Mess about their dietary intake. We at UWS believe that a healthy mind resides in a healthy body, for this the students need to be fit. To map each student's overall physical fitness objectively in terms of speed, power of limbs, agility, endurance, core strength and flexibility, we conduct health check-ups and fitness tests twice a year.

This test serves as a means of motivation for the pupils to improve and maintain fitness. In order to encourage students for better performance Fitness – Medals have been introduced from this session.

Students reaching 50 to 59 percentile would be awarded bronze medals, those reaching 60 to 69 percentile would get the silver medals while those scoring 60 percentile and above would get Gold Medals. This year – 15 students have received bronze medals, 11 students received silver medals and 4 students have claimed gold medals. In the years to come we aspire to get all our students in the Gold category.

The school works as well-oiled machinery; all this would not have been possible without the zeal and enthusiasm of our hardworking staff members across all the departments.

Gradually adding to its much-advanced infrastructure, this year Unison World School is all set to add a 7,000 sq. metre equestrian field to its state-of-the-art sports arena.

We are ever so grateful for the active and consistent support of the Management, who are a source of encouragement and play a key role in the growth of the School.

EXCERPTS FROM THE CHIEF GUEST'S SPEECH

For me being here in this wonderful school today, I never imagined that this school of all girls and not just girls, but so full of talent and energy, would move me so much. As I watched your performances filled with so many emotions, in fact, I was going through each of the Rasas as I saw the various depictions of emotions that a girl goes through. I really congratulate each one of you who have been working so hard behind this school, and I am sure that the parents who are here are very proud parents of this amazing school and their children who have deeply moved me today.

I have always been the great admirer of the values and qualities that women embody. I have come to believe that girls and women are the hope of this world. I always wonder, you know, women with their motherly compassion and kindness, if they could be given a chance to run the affairs of the

IF WE DON'T LEARN THE WAY YOU
TEACH, TEACH US THE WAY WE LEARN.

SONAM WANGCHUK

world, we would not have seen the World War I, the World War II nor a possible World War III. How can a mother who understands building homes rather than destroying, allow such a thing to happen if she had her say? And therefore, I truly think, that this kindness and this compassion that are innate, that are natural for a woman, must be given a chance. Hopefully, after this Kali Yuga where competition and greed rule the world, there will come a Sata Yuga where these qualities of women will be given the value they deserve. Women go through this kind of treatment because in the Kali Yuga that we are living in, these qualities are not valued. I want to be very hopeful, that there will be a time when human beings, particularly men, evolve to a higher self to believe more in collaboration rather than competition, more in love rather than hatred, construction rather than destruction, wisdom rather than cleverness.

आपके जैसे विद्यालयों से एक नया दौर शुरू होगा जिसमें नारी को अबला नहीं सबला माना जाएगा।

Application of knowledge is much more important than just making ourselves a library of information and knowledge. I will share now, a bit of our story of how we in Ladakh are working with deprived and very less privileged children. We, in Ladakh, work with the other end of the spectrum, students who are considered failures, students who are rejected by their schools, and I can tell you, they have a lot in them if given a chance. Both are very important, to work with those who are very bright and also with those who are rejected.

In our school we do, something called 'Rocket of the Year', you could call it 'Cheetah of the Year'. Somebody who is extremely poor and does not score 96% or 98% or even 50% but went up to 75%. That is a huge jump. So, that kind of student also should be awarded who has scored well compared to his last performance. That would be an amazing way of honouring competition with oneself. I think, in future, competition will be more about within, comparing and competing with my own older self rather than only with others.

I take you through a few images of our world in the high mountains. The Himalayas which you have here, they are very lush green, but by the time the monsoon clouds reach the top, they have shed all the moisture, humidity and snow on the Himalayas, making it very lush and green. By the time it reaches our side of the mountain it's a dry and barren desert, Ladakh is on the other side, in the rain shadow of the Himalayas. I, sometimes, in lighter vein say, "Nature has left us high and dry mountains." It may look like, you know, not a part of the planet earth, it looks more like moonscape or Marscape, but if you look closely, you will see some green patches which is a tribute to human ingenuity. Our ancestors made this oasis of greenery on the moonscape that Ladakh is. The only water is 'fossilized water' from hundreds or thousands of years, called glaciers. If you go closer, you will see patches of greenery that are a contribution of humankind, enriching nature rather than robbing nature.

Now, my adventure into education happened when I was doing my engineering. Up in the mountains, we are a very tiny minority and being a minority is not very easy. It's hardest when it comes to education because in the mountains, where the world is so different from the plains when children are told that they have to be educated and study. They are forced to read books that are in a language they don't understand, that are about things they don't understand, from the plains – the tropical plains - you just copy and paste something in the high Himalayas, it makes no sense. In the mountains of Ladakh, when it is -30° hour time, shivering cold, and the teacher makes them memorize 'F for fan', it doesn't make life easy. It doesn't make sense. When the children ask, "What is this contraption?" and the teacher says, "This is something to keep you cool." The children think why would anybody need to keep colder than what we are.

When I had to teach children, I wanted to change the system, to make education more contextual to the places where it is administered. To solve the problem of the region, of the people, rather than just a ritual that fails or passes you. I would go on and free these shackled children, who were made to feel like failures for no fault of theirs.

We started going into the root causes. We saw that textbooks don't make sense for the high Himalayas. So, we started changing the textbooks. We saw teachers didn't have the capacity to relate learning in the classroom to real life. So, we started training teachers. Very soon the results started changing too, from 5% success rate, it reached to 55%. But at this point we said this is not good enough. Why should anybody feel like a failure? So, we said we need to hand over this to the schools and we need to focus and help these children who are still failures, who were not taught in the ways they will learn.

That is why I always say, "If we don't learn the way you teach, teach us the way we learn." In a system that we have adopted now in the name of education where children and teenagers, young adults, bubbling with energy are placed in a classroom and made to memorize things, it is more surprising that some succeed rather than those who fail. Those who do very well are more unusual than those who do not. Because we humans are not designed to learn in these ways, we are more designed to learn outdoors, in action. For millions of years, we have learnt by doing, not by sitting and reading and listening to lectures.

So, we said, "Let's build a school where energies in young adults, is given a vent to do constructive things." So, with a batch of students, who were so called failures, we went to a desert in the middle of nowhere and started building a school that would be very different. It was conceived and designed by the students and built by them. It was a learning opportunity for children and the grownups also, to live in harmony with nature and not destroy the planet. It was built with natural materials like earth or mud which is affordable to all, rich or poor.

To channelise the energy in young adults, we said, "They should take responsibility and become partners in running the system than become problems to solve." So, this is the school that the students run, where they run the school like a little country with an elected government and a small Parliament where every two months, they have a change of government, thus, preparing them for real life. The government runs it for two months and then report to the Parliament and that way they learn the life skills that you can learn only by living a life rather than from books. They take responsibility of real life. They practically understand that profit is equal to selling price minus cost price. They get to apply what they learn in classes in reality, and prepare for real life. More complicated concepts like germ theory or microbial world, would be learned by applying it in something like making jam. Some of these students make a career out of what they learn and apply.

Arshi Mittal
Vice Prefect

With the vision in my eyes, on 22nd July, 2019, I was given the privilege to lead Daffodil House as a Prefect. It was indeed a life changing moment for me.

With time, I realised that being a leader was a Herculean task which demanded not only shouldering the various responsibilities of the house but also coordinating with the Vice Prefect, members of the house and the House Coordinator, who had bestowed faith in me.

As a leader of the house, I strived everyday to encourage, motivate and guide every member to put in their best efforts and endeavour to uphold the glory of the house. Not all days were filled with joys of triumph, there were times when we faced defeat. I made every failure as a stepping stone to achieve success. With iron will and guidance of my mentors, I continued to inch my way towards success. Through thick and thin we stayed united and worked relentlessly for the honour of the house.

When the going got tough, I began to lose heart but several hopeful eyes looking up to me, made me forge ahead. My white and golden badge pinned up to my shirt was a reminder of my duties. The motto of "Modesty", and slogan of "Bleed Yellow" infused a new spirit into us and we all were ready to accept any challenge that stood our way to success. We excelled in academics, worked ardently for activities and won laurels for the house. The year of toil and trial came to an end. I had learnt my lessons as a leader and in this short journey as a prefect, I overcame my weaknesses, armed myself with resolution, as well as nurtured future leaders of Daffodil House.

I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to all the girls of my house, and my mentors who made this journey of mine smooth and successful. We were the proud winners of the Cock House trophy and I feel indebted to each one of you who invested several hours, day and night, and made it possible.

I wish you success in all your endeavours. May your worth be measured on the scales of righteousness and modesty.

As Jasmine House Prefect (2019 - 20), I believe that leadership is not just a quality but a developed skill. Being given this wonderful opportunity, I changed my perspective towards many imperative values of life. During all our Inter-House Competitions, each member of the house was keen to participate and there was a sense of cooperation and teamwork which encouraged all individuals. This honour changed my life for which I'm so grateful, as now I shall be able to lead wisely with a democratic outlook.

The house has won various accolades in the Inter-House Swimming Competition, Inter-House March-past Competition (15.09.2019) to name a few. Jasmine House has multi-talented students who strive to do their best and uplift the motto of the house 'Simplicity'. Through my tenure as House Prefect, I enjoyed facing challenges and seizing opportunities which made me more productive and increased the efficiency of the house. When I was chosen to lead my house, I was ambivalent whether I would be capable enough to lead. It was with all the support of the house members I can proudly say that we've come a long way and Jasmine House is more like a family. I would like to thank each House member for putting in all their efforts and wanting nothing but the best for the house. This journey certainly wouldn't have been so easy without them. The constant support of my House Coordinator, Ms. Cheryl Cubbins, kept me going and I could inspire my juniors to have faith and do their best in everything they did.

As a whole, this experience has made a lifelong impact on me and Jasmine House has a lot to achieve which, undoubtedly, it will. It was a pleasure being able to encourage my house members especially my juniors and support my house in every possible situation. Honestly, in the beginning I saw this post of being a House Prefect very challenging but today I feel immensely connected to my house and grateful that I was chosen as the House Prefect.

All the Best Jasmine House! You deserve the best.

The greatest glory is not in never falling but in rising every time we fall. Orchid, the 'Blue House' stands true to its motto 'Serenity', facing all ups and downs with peace.

Getting an opportunity to represent and lead such a wonderful group of people was truly an amazing experience. Each member contributed in some way or the other towards the betterment of the house and had something to offer. Becoming the House Prefect was challenging but an excellent learning experience. There is so much that my house has taught me and there is even more that I should thank them for. I was definitely not a born leader but the love and support of my house, transformed me into a leader, and a better person. The optimistic outlook of my juniors always instilled hope and energy in me to keep going without being disheartened by failures. We firmly believe that it's not always about winning but also learning from our failures.

The girls of Orchid House proved, with their zeal and efforts, that where there is a will there is a way. We, through our performance in various inter-house competitions in the session

2019-2020, proved that we have an exceptionally talented group of girls who have brought laurels to our house in almost all categories of competitions. To name a few of our achievements: first position in Inter

House Poster Making & Slogan Writing Competition, Inter-House Ceramic Competition, Inter-House Cross Country first position in Inter-House chess competition and Inter-House Hindi extempore.

The house excelled in almost all the spheres with the support of its teachers and students who are determined to be the best and are ever striving to be perfect.

I am thankful to each member and teacher of my House for supporting me unconditionally. I desire my House to soar higher in future. I am highly indebted to the School Management and Mrs. Divya Dwivedi, Principal, for reposing faith in me. I extend my sincerest thanks to the Orchid House team for its co-operation and co-ordination.

Having been selected for the prefectorial body is far more than being lucky. Along with the metallic badge, I got many responsibilities which only charged me with more energy and helped hone a number of qualities that were hitherto latent.

Being a prefect, and the learning that came with it, has been one of the best and the most valuable treasures I have gathered in my school life.

Connecting with so many people of various age groups, understanding their problems and meeting the high expectations of the teachers and students has taught me the importance of accountability.

Management of time has been my 'mantra' all around the year; I acquired the art of balancing academics, activities, sports and my duties as the House Prefect of Tulip House. I successfully surpassed many hurdles of different natures.

Time and experience allowed me to juggle with myriad assignments and obligations which aided my bonding not only with the students of my House but also the teachers. These strong connections made the work smoother and a pleasure.

The happiness felt after carrying out my responsibilities, irrespective of victory or defeat, is unfathomable.

This opportunity to head my house has transformed me into the person I am today: confident to deal with any kind of workload and face the world head on, while never losing sight of the need to do justice to both, my personal and professional life.

MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD GIRL

Abiding by the school's timeless ethos, I have seen UWS evolve over the past twelve years, led by a stupendous team of teachers. Six years ago, seeing Priyal Verma, Vice Head Girl (2014), wished by the entire school and later witnessing the influence of, Gargi Arora, the Head Girl, I wondered what must be the duties of a leader. In 2018, I was given this opportunity and I learnt my first lesson as a leader. I realized the fine difference between being diplomatic and being spineless, and the fact that a leader must not take to either. The responsibilities that I was trusted with were like idols of my ideals and had to be handled with care. Acting as a mentor to the juniors instilled in me the quality of empathy. I have gone through a rollercoaster of experiences which in the spirit of mechanical professionalism developed my emotional strength. I started to boldly face every challenge I met. Every change, has been very exciting but with experience I learnt that changes must be measured and responsive in nature rather than being frantic, panic induced and reactive. Earnestly speaking, during my tenure as the Head Girl, I learnt that every mistake has hundreds of ways to be corrected. The sense and spirit of belongingness that is developed in an institute like mine, provides umpteen opportunities to excel in every field and learn new things. All criticism faced with grace, struggles overcome with determination, I gradually transformed into a better person and learnt leadership.

Today, I stand indebted to all of you for inculcating these virtues in me. With every event I managed, and every problem I solved, I inferred that desperate times call for desperate measures. We must always remember to lend our hands to others in adversity and learn from each other.

Thank you.

Expanding Horizons

Skiing is a mystifying sport using a range of movements to help stay in balance but it is said if you are not falling, you are not learning. On 18th May, 2019, the enthusiastic girls from UWS travelled to Verbier to experience the thrill of this remarkable sport.

SOUL-STIRRING SWITZERLAND

They travelled all the way from Verbier to Zermatt, the highest ski resort in Switzerland, to ski on the most beautiful ski fields. The experienced trainers of Les Elfes at Zermatt, organised Leadership Programme, PDP, for the girls to enhance their leadership skills.

Matterhorn Glacier Paradise welcomed the young skiers with snow-clad mountains. With their instructors they put on their shoes, helmets, gloves and picked up their skis to go for their first ski lesson. They then went to ski down the hill turning right and left, closely following their instructors.

It did not take long for the girls to ski on the blue slopes confidently. In a race on blue slopes, several girls won medals and appreciation. Besides learning to the girls went to CERN, Organisation Européenne pour la Recherche Nucléaire, one of the world's largest centres for scientific research, where they understood the nature of particles as well as their detection through the working of the Large Hedron Collider (LHC). They visited the United Nations, U.N, and seated themselves in the hall where the UN assemblies take place.

The trip was filled with several adventurous experiences. They flew over the mountains while experiencing paragliding with their instructors. It was a new and a fantastic experience. The valley resounded with screams and giggles as the girls got ready for bridge swinging. They then went for hiking to closely view the lush green hill sides.

They also learnt Spanish and French from the local teachers, who also taught a few Spanish recipes to them.

Adding a different flavour to the the programme was a visit to Callier chocolate factory and the cheese factory La Maison du Gruyère.

RANGI RURU GIRLS' SCHOOL NEW ZEALAND

With a warm reception at Rangi Ruru School, New Zealand, on May 15, 2019, the girls looked forward to a new learning experience.

Besides their stay with the buddies, the girls enjoyed outstation trips with them. They drove down to Wanaka, relished dinner in Tekapu and admired the pristine beauty of Queenstown. Queenstown was power packed with adventure. Bungy Jumping, the Luge, Zip-line and the Jet Boat Ride, were enough for an adrenaline rush. The girls etched in their memories, the remarkable mountain range and wondrous Lake Wakatipu. They also visited the International Antarctic Centre to learn more about life in the Antarctic. They experienced the storm in the Ice Room, went on a short Hagglund ride, watched the small blue penguins feeding and resting near water at the centre. A visit to the Willow Bank Wildlife Reserve was a rewarding experience. It was no less than an achievement to spot a kiwi in dark.

Looking at the Māori galleries and exploring the rich culture and natural heritage of New Zealand, admiring pāua shells at the world-famous kiwiana icon, Fred & Myrtle's Pāua Shell House, reading at the central library, Tūranga, was not only exhilarating but also full of learning. A tour of University of Canterbury, New Zealand's second oldest university, and interaction with the Deans and the International Recruitment Coordinator, informed them of various undergraduate courses offered there.

The girls stunned the Rangi girls with their Indian classical dance, Bollywood free style and more, which they had particularly prepared for the cultural exchange.

The girls departed from Rangi Ruru on 5th June, 2019 with a new perception and outlook towards the world, embracing all cultures and taking a step towards global citizenship.

Driving through the Lincoln tunnel, learning about the trivia related to White House, watching the Lincoln Memorial, they headed towards the airport to board a flight to Buffalo.

They witnessed the natural wonder of the most powerful falls in North America and the mesmerizing beauty of the Niagara from very close quarters. They dressed up early in the morning to become a part of the educational programme at Kennedy Space Center (KSC), maintained and operated by Delaware North Company for NASA, Florida. At KSC, they observed the launch pads, the Vehicle Assembly Building and the NASA Causeway conditions on Mars, the Red planet , without even leaving the Earth.

The students were trained like the next generation of space explorers who would travel to Mars.

The Shuttle Launch Experience, the Rocket garden and the U. S. Astronaut Hall of Fame featuring Heroes and legends of Space travel, left them tongue-tied.

They also experienced planting trees on Mars in Life Science laboratory besides clearing the dust on the surface of the moon with their robots. They learned about 'Harris Tweed', the finest Scottish wool, during the textile workshop, attempted a few steps of the traditional Scottish dance ceilidh, enjoyed live traditional Scottish music and baked delicious short bread. ST. FRANCIS' COLLEGE

UNITED KINGDOM

Ms. Bryan, the student-exchange program coordinator at St. Francis' College, warmly received the delegates from UWS on Saturday, 14th September, 2019, at Heathrow Airport. Being die-hard fans of Harry Potter, it was a dream come true for the girls to visit the Warner Brothers Studio and get an experience of the various sounds and the special visual effects, understand the use of prosthetics to transform real faces into goblins and explore the magic of the most successful film. After a magical experience at the studio, they had another unbelievable encounter with the Royal Family on the iconic balcony at Madam Tussauds Wax Museum. They boarded a London cab and journeyed through 400 years of the capital's history before joining the Marvel Super Heroes for a crime-fighting adventure, at the museum. A movie show 'Ad Astra' at the Broadway hall in Letchworth, was quite relaxing.

At the National Space Centre at Leicester, UK's largest planetarium, they learnt about the grueling training schedule of the astronauts, and the ill-effects of staying in the space for long. They also attended a collaborative workshop at the planetarium to learn how to operate robots on Mars.

On 26th September, 2019, after a very fruitful stay, the girls were bid farewell. The different areas of the programme helped the girls to know more about the British culture.

A group of six students, five girls and one boy, are posing for a photo in front of a temple. They are all wearing white short-sleeved shirts and white trousers or skirts, with a bright orange sash draped over their shoulders. They are smiling and looking towards the camera. The background features a temple facade with a red wall and intricate golden carvings, including a large lion and a deer. EXPLORING INCREDIBLE INDIA RANGI RURU AT UWS

On 18th July, 2019, Rangi Ruru girls embarked on a new journey to explore more about India and her rich culture as well as to become a part it and embrace it whole-heartedly.

They immersed themselves in spiritual learning. Visiting Gurudwara Nanaksar, performing hawan, learning about Lord Sai and other prominent Hindu deities at Sai Temple, experiencing Buddhist culture at Sakya Centre, were a sanctifying grace for the girls. During their short stay they were involved in sundry activities to enable them understand the rich cultural heritage of India. Breathing in the unforgettable aroma of Indian spice in the Cooking Workshop, staining hands with the resplendent colours of rangoli to create new designs, putting pictures in a Photo Collage, tying and dying in the Textile Studio and admiring the dark reddish-brown henna patterns on their hands, rendered them speechless.

The pristine beauty of the hills in Mussoorie was incredible, and they eagerly looked forward to seeing more of India. They were exceptionally excited about the Golden Triangle.

In Delhi, the masterpiece of Indo-Muslim art, Qutab Minar left them spellbound. Akshardham was a unique spiritual experience.

Agra was on the top of the list with its marvel in marble, the Taj Mahal, which stole the show with its lush green pathways, gardens and fountains. The splendour of Agra Fort was breath-taking. Jaipur did not fail to secure a place in their hearts with stunning Jantar Mantar, City Palace and Amer Fort. The girls experienced the traditional cuisine of the city at Chokhi Dhani and were, indeed, fascinated by the variety of dishes and spices.

On 1st August, 2019 Unison World School, Dehradun, bid farewell to the delegates. To express their gratitude and give a peek into their culture, the Rangi girls put up a short cultural programme which included heart throbbing dance performances both on Indian as well as their native 'Maori' songs. Reminiscence

Reminiscence

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the school for the immense support and cooperation that has been provided during my time here. I have spent the best 6 years of my life at Unison. The guidance I received from you, the encouragement, the comfort and above all, the friendship that helped stay strong all these years are what I truly cherish. Just as the feeling of embarking on a new life is exciting for me, leaving all of you is extremely disheartening. Thank you for everything you have given me. I would literally be nothing without your support.

Ananya Tekriwal

Unison - a turning point in my life. Before joining the school, I was a very shy and an introvert. I didn't focus much on extracurricular activities. A boring perspective of life! But Unison changed my perspective. It made me livelier and also taught me to balance studies and fun. It made me realize the importance of family along with the importance of friends in life. I had many ups and downs in my two-year journey at Unison but each fall taught me to rise up, stronger than before and each rise helped me be more grounded. To sum up, Unison has been one of the best parts of my life which will be missed and cherished till my last breath. I want to thank all my teachers, staff, friends, juniors, seniors, all the members of the Unison family for making me who I am today. Thanks a lot!

Ekta Mittal Agarwal

If I go on describing how much I relish this journey I would be out of words. Yet I will never be able to express how much I miss this place and how much I loved being here. I don't know where I should begin and where I should end but I'm so grateful for living a major part of my childhood here. What makes this journey unique is the bond that we form here and those that can be counted on for the rest of our lives. How much I wonder everyday thinking that time just flew by and nine years just passed away. I don't know if I will ever be able to come across the same people that I came across at the school. I entered Unison at the age of eight. I was a shy, energetic but a very confused girl and all that I have achieved now is because of the people around me at Unison who have molded me in the best possible way. It's not just in terms of academics that Unison has made me what I am but also in all other co-curricular activities. It wouldn't have been possible for me to reach this level without proper guidance. The values that I learnt here are what I will carry for the rest of my life. I cannot thank Unison enough for making me what I am today. For making me realise my potential in its true terms and making me a girl with strong opinions and confidence. Today what I stand for and what I will do further in my life, the credit goes to the school and the teachers who helped me throughout.

I hope to see Unison achieve greater heights and become the best boarding school in the nation.

Payal Maheshwari

When I joined Unison I was an introvert. I wasn't independent and generally scared. My two years at Unison have transformed me a lot.

One of the important lessons the School has taught me is that one must explore all opportunities and options, you never really know what you may discover about yourself. I have learned to communicate better with people and make better decisions. This journey has indeed been very incredible just as amazing as a rollercoaster ride.

Prassanata Joshi

Even though everyone may walk on the same path, each one has a different journey and my journey at UWS has been a bitter-sweet one. I would describe myself as an ever-confused person and I wasn't proud of it. At UWS, I've met so many amazing broad-minded people who've changed the way I look at myself. They helped me embrace myself with all my flaws. Being an introvert hindered me from making many friends but when it comes to memories - I MADE A TONNE. There was obviously a lot of academic pressure, sports were despised, lots of mistakes were made but looking back I regret none of that. Every time I fell, I had my mentors and friends to help me get back on my feet. I will remain forever grateful to UWS and its incredible faculty for their constant support and guidance.

Prashna Thapa

You are the director of the montage that is your Life. Choose your own pictures and you'll realise that the whole is infinitely greater than the sum of its parts. Do frivolous things, laugh till it hurts, make spontaneous decisions, harbour no regrets, be a teen, colour outside the lines and make waves. Some things are not meant to be. Or maybe they are meant not to be. Life is a swirling vortex of entropy. Don't make it a scripted journey.

Saakshi More

Choosing Unison for high school was the best decision I took. When I came to Unison, my mind was always surrounded by a cloud of doubt. I was always fearful of being judged. I wouldn't say that I was never judged at Unison but here I developed a deep understanding of things and started feeling safe. My friend circle and teachers showed immense faith in me and the cloud of doubt disappeared. All this took four years and now when I have stepped into college, I am surprised at how confidently I can speak up. I can never thank Unison enough for not only helping me develop academically but also emotionally. Unison is a journey I will always cherish and be grateful for, with all my heart!

Sajal Agarwal

My journey at Unison World School has been wonderful but also a little hard. I will never forget these golden days of my life. When I first came to school, as many of you know, I was an introvert. I didn't talk to anyone but the more I let myself into this crazy world here at UWS, I got to express my true self and become who I am today.

This school has helped me evolve to an extent which I couldn't have imagined. It has given me life-long friends and lessons to take with me wherever I go. I'm really grateful for all I have been given here.

Samriddhi Arya

It always seems impossible until it's done. That's how I watched my high school life flutter past me in a blink of an eye. It doesn't feel like it has been more than two years since I joined Unison, with my bags packed for a new adventure. Leaving behind the world where I spent the better half of my life to leap into a new one was daunting.

I had to find a new way of becoming a better version of myself. I had to find a new way of perceiving myself in this new environment. Like all changes this wasn't going to be easy but I was prepared for it. During my stay here, I have learned how to believe in myself and how to manage my time efficiently even when deadlines seemed unachievable and the goal too far away. I have learnt that persistence and strong work ethic are the keys to all locked doors. I have learnt how to meet my fears with rationality and courage; to be able to trust myself and do what I think is right. However, most importantly, I learnt that we are all capable of change bigger than ourselves and that we inspire and influence people around us inadvertently. So, we must always strive to be the best version of ourselves at all times.

Aastha Raisurana

Today when I look back at my journey, I am filled with emotions. I entered UWS as an introvert who was doubtful about every step she took and has stepped out as a confident young lady who is sure about her decisions and actions. From every faculty member to the entire working staff, I am thankful to all, for helping me stand in front of the world as an individual. I am honoured to have left a mark on the students who look up to me and whose belief pushes me to do better. My journey was a tough one, full of rejections and judgments, but everything was worth the wait. Thank you, Unison, I am a proud alumna and will always be.

Drishti Manju

These two years at Unison World School have been a socio-emotional rollercoaster ride, filled with memories and life lessons. Unison definitely gets the highest credit for building me into this person I am today.

Although there have been varied crests and troughs in this span, these riveting moments have taught me that notability and honour come with a great deal of responsibility, effort and hard work. Something that I'm proud of accomplishing in these two years is dealing with a multitude of events and hence solving the problems ensuing have made me multifarious and have helped me evolve successfully as a PSP - Problem Solving Project. Also, my teachers, mentors and friends have been instrumental in augmenting my confidence, skill-set and sense of self-worth.

At the same time, the myriad tasks at school have acted as a powerful appetizer in galvanizing the efficiency of my working and my management skills. Moreover, UWS has helped me inculcate the essence of gratitude, hard work and time. I will be forever grateful to Unison for everything.

Anushka Barik

My journey at Unison has been like a roller coaster. I had many ups and downs but all these have made me a stronger person. I came as a very shy student but Unison has shaped me into a better person. I have made some amazing memories here, which will always be cherished.

Bhavya Jain

Unison has helped me become a multi-tasker. When I had joined the school, I always believed that excelling at academics was the most important thing. However, later I realised that the learning that takes place outside the classroom is a must as it develops the overall personality of an individual. I have spent six years of my life at Unison and each passing day has made me realise my potential. After becoming a Prefect in Grade XI, I realised that I always had leadership skills embedded in my personality, it was just that they had not surfaced before. I am really grateful to this wonderful institution for making me who I am today and I am so proud to be an Uthena!!

Khushi Gupta

Unison has transformed me from a naive child to an independent individual. It has helped boost my confidence and become a better version of myself. It has provided me a platform where I could face and combat my fears, explore outside my comfort zone.

Vani Agarwal

Unison has helped me become who I am today. It has taught me to stand up what I believe in, my principles and have the courage to adhere to them. It has transformed me into a better version of myself.

Srishti

My journey at Unison World School for a short span of four years has been quite memorable and will always be adored. My teachers have taught me great values, patience and most importantly time-management; something I was totally unaware of when I entered the gates of this school. Now, I am a little more confident and an independent individual. I have inculcated these values through varied exposures at Unison. This school has indeed given the best to its students.

Pawani Agarwal

I have no words to express my gratitude towards UWS for helping me create my own identity. The school has changed my life completely from being a shy girl to an enthusiastic and out-going girl. I am thankful to the Unison family for always believing in me and making me an 'International Level Air Pistol Shooter'. The school has taught me the art of balancing academics along with extra-curricular activities which will always be helpful for me. UWS has provided me with the best of facilities in all the fields be it infrastructure, teachers, hostel, sports or the food. I will always be grateful to the Unison family for grooming my overall personality.

Saumya Agarwal

Unison has molded me into a much better version of myself in these two years. Even though the journey was a short one, it was definitely filled with truckloads of learning. I cannot thank the school enough for giving me such a great platform to showcase my talent. It was all possible only because of the constant support I got from the teachers along with the trust and faith they put in me. Their constant motivation to make me work hard made this dream turn into a reality, a reality that I wouldn't have experienced otherwise.

Nidhi Agarwal

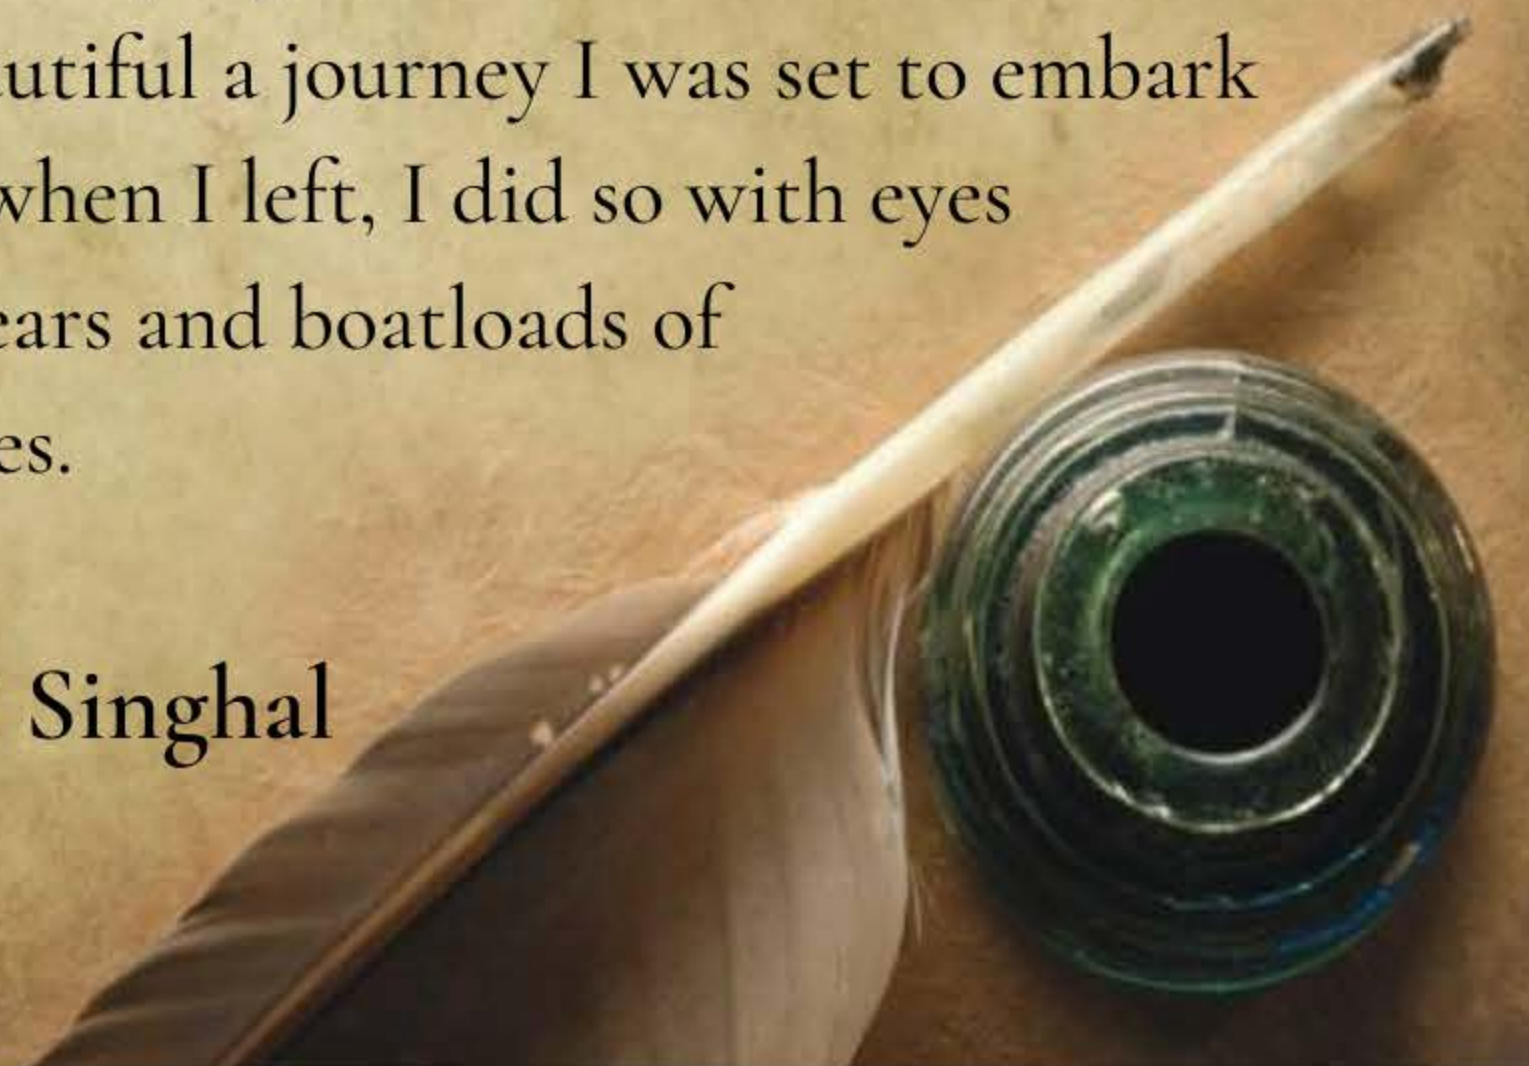

I feel extremely privileged to have got the opportunity to study at Unison World School for two years. It is rightly said that not all superheroes wear capes, some have teaching degrees. I can't thank the teachers enough who helped me realize my potential. A huge shout-out to the teachers and my friends for always having faith in me and helping me become an independent and an outgoing person.

Shreya Agarwal

My journey of two years at Unison was nothing less than a roller coaster ride. Filled with truckloads of learning. The most important thing Unison made me realize is that striking a balance is the most important skill to master anything and everything. My journey at UWS was not very smooth always but nobody's journey is meant to be, and that is what makes us emotionally stronger. We were flooded with opportunities - some we were able to grab and some slipped through our fingers.

Also, I cannot thank the school faculty enough for their endless support and guidance which always motivated me to work harder. When I started studying at Unison, I had no idea about how beautiful a journey I was set to embark on and when I left, I did so with eyes full of tears and boatloads of memories.

Riti Singhal

Being a part of Unison has been the best decision of my life. When I began my journey, I was uncertain of what lay ahead but these four years have completely transformed me to a more self-assured, rational and compassionate individual. It has given me the best set of friends, incredible mentors and a plethora of opportunities that have carved out the personality I now have. There will always be abundance of gratitude in my heart for Unison and everybody who was a part of it.

Mitali Agarwal

It wouldn't be justified if I say that Unison has changed me in these years instead it has taught me to brush up my innate qualities, develop them for good and confidently let them grow. It has taught me to be assertive, excel in all the domains. It has taught me to stand on my own two feet, nurture friendship, respect teachers, and all the wonderful things. Unison helped me to transform into a confident and strong girl.

Charvie Patel

I would like to thank the faculty of Unison World School for making me a better person and guiding me. Unison has transformed me into a confident personality and has taught me how to face various situations in life independently.

Sameepta Nirankari

These four years at Unison have been an unforgettable experience. Unison has helped me become a better and confident person. This would not have been possible without my teachers and friends who have supported me through everything. It has transformed me into an independent person that I have always strived to become.

Pranjal Singhal

I joined this Unison family in the year 2015 and today, as a graduate of this institution I can proudly say that this place is the reason behind what I am today. I thank the teachers for their immense hard work into making me a better individual. In fact, I am thankful to each and every member of the Unison family for pushing me in the right direction. This place has molded me into a strong and confident girl and it wouldn't have been possible without the unconditional support from the teachers.

Rishika Sonkar

Unison has been my home away from home. Whatever I am today, Unison has helped me. It's a place of worship for me become. The six years I've spent here are truly the best time of my life. I've made so many memories that I will never forget. My teachers, mentors have supported me through thick and thin. Unison has given me so much and I shall always be grateful. Thank you, Unison!

Haytal Jain

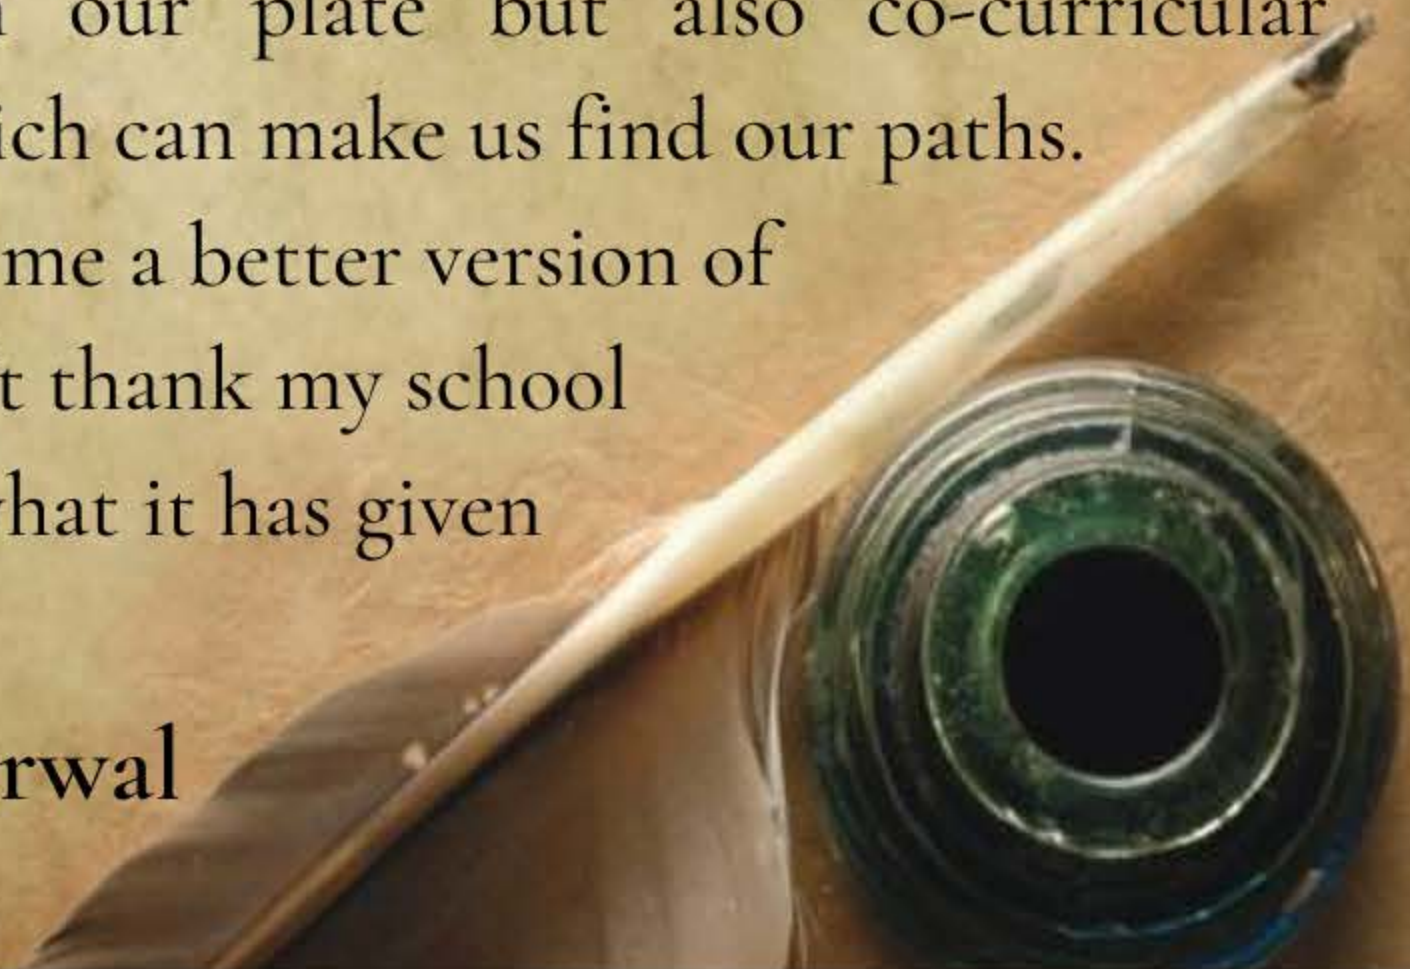

Words would fail to describe the pride that fills my heart when I walk down the memory lane. Now when I look back, at these eight years in Unison, there is a flood of bittersweet emotions in my heart. I entered this school as a shy girl. Eight years in this school have not been any less than a rollercoaster ride, I found a better version of myself. All the opportunities in the school have helped me discover my capabilities. There are no words that can express my gratitude to my teachers, friends and the school. Thank you for everything!

Rehat Reet Brar

I entered the premises of Unison World School at 12 years of age. I was a timid, introvert kid who didn't have the foggiest idea about the fundamentals of a decent life. As years passed, Unison World School not only helped me nurture myself but also helped me to become a person I used to dream of becoming as a young girl. It is all because of this place and the people, who were more like a family than teachers and friends. The journey of these six years here has always been astonishing. Honestly, I would be so lost without this place. The biggest gift this place has given me is by introducing me to Graphic Design which has even made it easy for me to decide my career. Going from a quiet to an out-going person, it has been an incredible journey. This journey allowed me to build my opinions and helped me give my voice worth. This institute has made me believe in strong and unbreakable bonds. Friends who made me believe in myself even more. Also, it has made me believe that indulging in academics is not all we have on our plate but also co-curricular activities which can make us find our paths. It has made me a better version of myself. I can't thank my school enough for what it has given to me.

Diya Agarwal

The place where I developed into the person I am today is School. Now, I call myself an independent and self-reliant girl. I put in what a working person would call a full shift, and by doing so I have learned a tremendous amount, not only in terms of my coursework but In terms of interacting with others, learning what people expect of me and learning how to be a better person, so that I am better prepared for college and the “real world”. The most important reflection of life at Unison is that I learnt to socialise with others as my time in Unison was with people from various cultures and different regions. I also developed a sense of unity in diversity and the essence of co-operation. My six-year journey at Unison has taught me self-discipline. I owe a lot to my school for bringing such changes in my life.

Sakshi Mittal

The 7 years I spent at Unison have been amazing. When I first entered the gates of Unison, I was not confident and was not at all an independent girl. Slowly and gradually, I learnt many things from my teachers and my friends, who have been the most important part of my Unison journey, and I am proud of who I am now.

Gauri Arora

My journey at Unison has changed me, shaping me into a better person. I had never imagined I would be so confident about my abilities, to which I was being acquainted with at school. Unison is not just a name for me, it's a matter of pride for me to be an Uthena. I will always try to maintain its dignity and value, no matter where life takes me. I would like to mention my teachers' effort who always tried to make me stand out of the crowd. And who made me realize my worth. Moreover, Unison has a part of my heart. Lastly, I would like to say that every teacher has had an influence in my life in grooming my personality.

Sakshi Trivedy

I joined Unison World School in 2018 and have spent two wonderful years of my life here. From being an introvert, shy and lazy girl, this school has molded me into a strong, independent and hard-working person. UWS has taught me the values of life - importance of knowing yourself and most importantly helping others. This journey wouldn't have been possible without my teachers who were always there for me and pampered me more than my parents. I owe so much to the school and I'm glad to have been a part of it.

Ashna Khandelwal

It is said home is fun and sweet, but life at home has no comparison to life in a boarding school. In a boarding school, life is full of amusements. One is constantly in the company of one's age group. Spending 6 crucial years of my life at Unison was worth every experience there. It has taught me to 'let go' of things and to 'move on'. It has helped me mold myself into a better person. I will cherish all the moments spent at Unison; good or bad as I learnt a lot from both. I cannot express how grateful I am to Unison.

Aaradhya Agarwal

Unison has been a roller coaster ride for me. My journey has been short and sweet but definitely memorable. I would like to thank the school faculty for their contribution in making me who I am today. I have acquired good management skills in these two years. It has been a nice experience overall and I feel lucky to have been a part of such a prestigious institution.

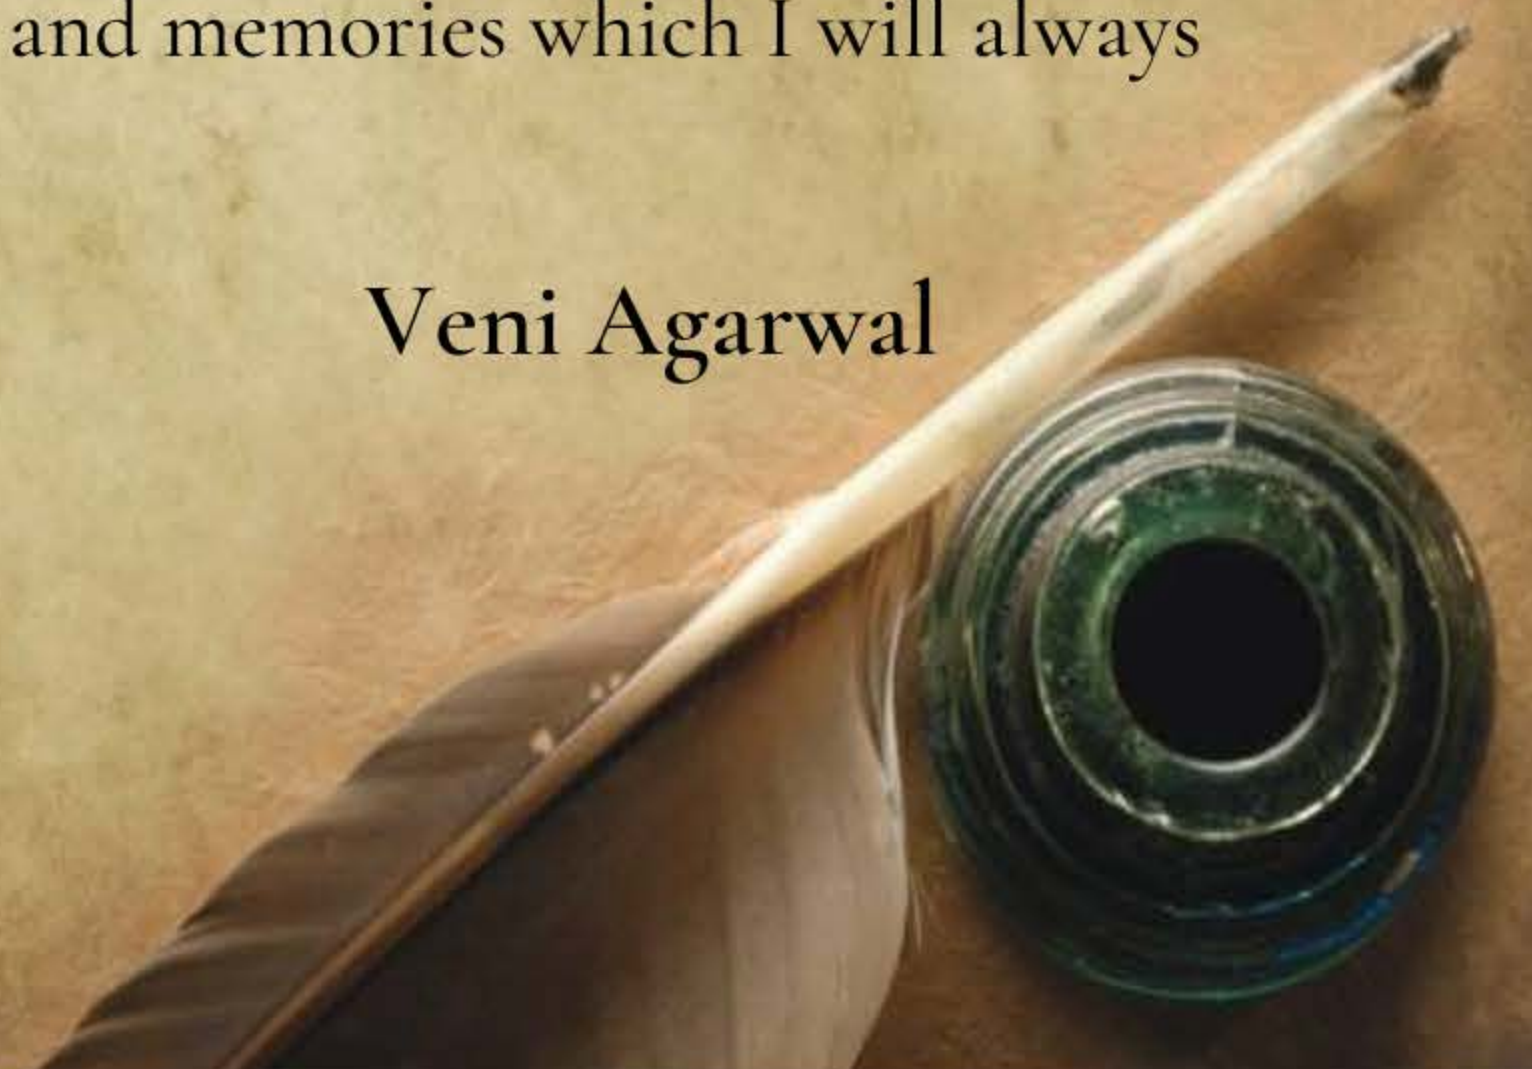

Aashka Singhal

My journey at Unison World School has been impeccable. From a naive, guideless girl, Unison has transformed me into a confident individual who is well aware of her goals and ambitions. It has also made me stronger, more brave and more friendly towards my peers. Unison was the best choice I've made in my life.

Swati Kewlani

Time flew by without notice, I can't believe that I have passed out of school. All those joyous memories will stay with me. I entered Unison as a diffident girl who was inquisitive to learn things. My time at Unison has helped in my overall development in sports as well as my academics which wouldn't have been possible without my exceptional and brilliant teachers who have supported me unconditionally, be it any situation. The positive environment in Unison has given friends and memories which I will always cherish.

Veni Agarwal

A journey, 8 years long, in a wonderful institution like Unison World School is one of the best decisions I have made in my life. As an alumna of this prestigious institution I can proudly say that this place has shaped me into the person I am today. This school has not just helped me know my potential in academics and sports, which was far beyond what I expected to see myself achieve, but also in many other ways as well. All the teachers constantly encouraged me to do my best. It was great knowing that they were there to help me reach my full potential, there is nothing I can do or say that would aptly express my gratitude for their dedication and guidance over these last eight years.

This school has guided me towards the path which was the best for me. Yes, there were highs and lows but having such wonderful teachers, has molded me into a strong and confident girl. There are no words that can express how thankful I am to this school. I truly owe a lot to this place that I now call home. I am proud to call myself an Uthena!!

Thank you for everything that has made me who I am today.

High school is just like a movie, a lot of things happen. High school is probably a time in our lives where we go through the most changes. Each day is special and unique. My journey at Unison was a tough one, especially because I decided to not only focus on academics but also to invest quality time in extra-curricular activities. I entered the school as a shy and introvert girl who would sit in the corner and not interact with anyone. There was my turning point, Unison made me realize my potential. It changed my perspective of seeing life, taught me to stand up for myself, unafraid to speak from my heart and face the world confidently. I had many ups and downs in this short journey of two years but each obstacle has made me a stronger person and I am grateful for that. High school is what helps you grow into the person you are. I have great memories, good and sad, some learning experiences and some that I'll take with me for the rest of my life. I will forever be grateful to my teachers, who I'm not sure how I will live without. But I know that now I can go into the real world and be confident about who I am and what I can achieve. Thanks to my wonderful teachers!

Riya Agarwal

Unison is the school that has made me what I am today, without any doubts. It has groomed me in the best way possible. I came in as a child who was immature, had no sense of the world, and wasn't actually good at anything; and I passed out as an ambitious young lady who is clear about her goals and leaves an impression wherever she goes. This school has actually made me the ideal version of myself and I am eternally grateful for that to the entire Unison family.

Varuni Agarwal

Unison has taught me a lot and has transformed me into a better person, making me more confident and outgoing. It has helped me overcome my fears and has made me more focused and passionate about a lot of things. The best thing I got from Unison is that I got introduced to a sport like Rifle shooting which is very different and interesting; one that has given me a lot. It has been a great opportunity for me to graduate from such a wonderful boarding school.

Savya Khetan

I have been a part of the Unison family for 8 years. It has made me who I am today. My 8 years journey includes all the ups and downs and yet has been the best years of my life. The teachers, the students, the activities, everything has left a meaningful impact in my life. If I am recognised for my sports or my creativity, it's Unison that helped me to showcase them and has given me a platform. I was nine-year-old when I came to Unison. I didn't know how to do my hair or make the bed. Well, my handwriting was also not a very pleasing sight. I could hardly draw a square. Now, here I am, transformed into a totally different person and studying at NIFT, Gandhinagar. I would like to give all the credit to my Unison family for making me this capable. Unison is a home, one I'll never forget.

Khushy Jaiswal

I joined Unison World School in 2014. The school has transformed me into an independent, bold and an optimistic girl. The workshops, exchange programs and other classes have made me a confident individual. I want to thank the hostel staff, teaching faculty, madam Vice Principal and madam Principal for their endless support in these 6 years. Unison has made me realise my potential.

Vidhi Gulati

I joined Unison just 4 days after my ICSE boards had ended. I was looking forward to an academic growth and exciting social life but Unison gave me so much more than that. Unison World School gave me a platform to make the most of every opportunity and to keep growing, it groomed me into an individual who values integrity more than anything else in this world. From the good times that we've shared in the dorms and dining hall to the lessons that we've learnt in the corridors, this journey has been so beautiful. The teachers, matrons and friends who became our family and taught us the meaning of selfless love are the blessings I'll cherish forever. Thank you, Unison!

Falguni Somani

Unison wasn't just a mere school where I studied for 6 years, completed my schooling and got over with it. It was an epitome of learning, the amount of confidence I gained, which today makes me voice my opinions, principles, is all because of the school. I learnt to be myself and not 'dumb driven cattle', every skill of mine is what school taught me. It has taught me how to stand out in the world and be there for myself and others who need me the most.

Ahana Dulat

Unison has just not been some mere building for me but a wall of memories. Some sour, some sweet. But none that I can ever forget. Some teachers have seen me blossom into a flower when I was just a nectar being sucked out of a flower. For that, I thank Keshav sir, Anamika ma'am, Rakshaa ma'am, Aaditri ma'am, Surender sir, Seema ma'am, and Sumonjit sir, for always seeing the good in me.

Zainab Ali Khan

My journey in Unison was indeed adventurous. I got the opportunity to explore not only the different activities but also the qualities within me. Unison has made me what I am today, a successful sportsperson. The teachers never gave up on me and always encouraged and motivated me to achieve my goals.

Basu Thakur

My journey at Unison can't be expressed in words. I'd never seen such helpful teachers in my life until I entered Unison. It has transformed me into a person I'm today. Before joining Unison I was a shy and quiet girl but now, I feel confident, as I've faced many hurdles. I was an introvert and now I'm partially extrovert. I had never imagined that I would be able to stand up for myself or speak my mind but staying in Unison for four years has taught me this. Ma'am Shefali Sanwal and Ma'am Shallu have made me realise my potential. I would like to express my gratitude to them for showing me the right path when I was lost and thank them for pushing me in the right direction.

Aakriti Jindal

I joined UWS in 9th grade, July 15, 2016, the beginning of my High School years, at the mere age of 14. I was born and raised in the United States and lived quite the sheltered life before joining UWS. I was oblivious to what goes on in the real world. I still remember how I would never stop crying. I was honestly scared to be in this new place, with new people and new way of doing things. I still remember the first class I had on Monday, July 16, 2016, was Biology with Updesh Ma'am and I was late to the class. I have had a special connection with Updesh Ma'am, with her as my mother figure, in school, ever since. The students, made us feel like the school could become so much more for us, it could become our home away from home, and right they were. It was after Winter Vacations, when I finally began feeling comfortable enough speaking to my classmates. After that, our class, now unofficially including me, became inseparable. We definitely had our ups and downs, but there was always a quote our class followed: 'United we stand, divided we fall.' 12th grade passed by like a breeze. Knowing every day in that school, in 12th grade, was a last for me, as a student. The last CCEs, last Mid-terms and Finals (definitely not a sad thing), last Annual Function, last Inter-Houses. Through it all, I believed I would feel happy after I had graduated, to be finally leaving the school. However, as they say, 'You never know what you have until it's gone.' What I had was companionship, people who became my sisters, both younger and older, teachers who became more like family and mentors who never failed to show me what's right and what's wrong. Unison is a big part of who I have become, as a person.

Somya Sharma Mohan

I have studied at Unison for 10 years but every day at Unison felt new and fresh. So many challenges lay ahead. One day you would have a competition, another a test or you'd be selected to speak the morning prayer. Challenges like these made me venture out of my comfort zone. Once we pass out of school, we observe that every day in life is similarly challenging and you find yourself thanking the school for building you into a person who is always ready to face such challenges. Another important lesson that UWS has taught me is the art of decision making. When I look back, I can see a little 10-year-old making decisions by herself and I feel proud of myself. At a very young age I was capable of making my own decisions even if they were about small things like which sport I wanted to choose or whether I wanted to participate in a competition. Slowly, I began to feel that I was able to make my own decisions and voice them without worrying about being judged. Although I made a lot of wrong decisions at school, but those mistakes have really helped me. Now, I know what I want and am not afraid of choosing the things that are right for me.

The Unison family, including teachers, students, hostel staff, cooks, guard didis, has molded me into the person that I am today. I am inexpressibly and infinitely grateful to all of them.

Nandini Khandelwal

Unison - a place which has instilled lifelong values in me and I fall short of words when I come down to expressing my gratitude towards this wonderful institution. UWS has given me the memories I cherish the most and the one thing I will always be thankful for is the confidence UWS gave me to have faith in myself no matter what I do and to be able to stand out of the crowd. I really miss performing Kathak on the stage in the MPH and being able to meet my teachers every day.

The corridors, the dining hall, the periphery, the common rooms, the dorms, everything is the greatest feeling of nostalgia. For me, UWS is my home away from home. Before joining UWS, I did not know that I could channelize my potential in so many ways and Unison gave me so many opportunities which helped me to become an extraordinary student. The leadership skills, the feeling of being self-dependent, the sense of taking responsibilities has shaped me into the person

I am today. I seized every opportunity that came my way and gave my best shot at most of the activities and sports. I was an introvert but now, I feel confident when I voice my own opinions and stand strong with my life's principles. Spending seven years at UWS made me build lifelong bonds with most of my friends and my teachers. All the unconditional love and support I received from my teachers, my hostel staff, my sahayika didis and guard didis will be treasured for the rest of my life. I can never thank UWS enough, for playing the biggest role in my life and making me feel good about myself as a person. It gives me immense happiness to belong to the UWS family and I will always be grateful and a proud Uthena.

FROM THE EDITORS

In the course of paying attention so arduously to our goals and destinations, we forget to enjoy the journey. Our destination might be the ultimate prize but it is the journey that helps us weave memories and treasure the resplendent experiences that come our way on this quest to achieve greater glory. Every Uthena who joins Unison leaves these hallowed portals as an independent individual with an unbiased perspective. Every successive year adds on to her self-development. Through Quintessence we bring to you this transformational journey of the Uthenas.

Just as past years, we were smoothly drifting through this year, inching our way forward and adding laurels to the already long list of accolades of the school.

All seemed too well and we were ready with scores of plans and dreams to accomplish when unexpectedly we got to the road bump in our former smooth ride. The coronavirus pandemic took the world by a storm. Amidst panic and apprehension, we were sent to the confines of our homes. For a while, the world had come to a standstill and so had our education. Our world was topsy-turvy when the honourable Prime Minister of India announced the nationwide lockdown. All the sectors had virtually paralysed, when the technological advancement became a blessing in disguise. We gradually began to adjust with 'the new normal' of online classes, assignments and online examinations. Although we felt under pressure with constricting deadlines, and computer crashes, we embraced this change with a newfound sense of excitement and enthusiasm.

A myriad of new experiences in these times, paved way for our development. We devised new rules and conventions and this journey became a great learning experience, which initially seemed a daunting task.

In these uncertain times, as always, the Uthenas continued to make steady progress which could not have been possible without the constant motivation from our peers and teachers, our guiding beacon of light.

We express our intense gratitude to Ms. Divya Dwivedi, Principal, Dr. Mona Khanna, Vice-Principal and the Management, for making this unique learning experience memorable. We also thank all those who tirelessly worked behind the scenes. It is only because of the love and encouragement of our mentors that we made our most cherished memories even in these bleak circumstances.

THE UNFORGETTABLE JOURNEY

The phone rang in my office. It was from the book store. “Ma’am, all the textbooks and notebooks for the new academic session have arrived. The Annual Examinations are coming to an end in a couple of days; the students and the class teachers must clear their cupboards, please.” I commended Mr. Joshi for his state of preparedness, little knowing that the entire planning would go for a toss in the next couple of days. At UWS, we could foresee the unintended outbreak of contagious virus COVID-19 and ensured that the important information was passed on to all the stakeholders and necessary arrangements were made. The examinations were scheduled within the coming few days and necessary amendments in the assessment pattern were made. Our Examinations Cycle for 2019-20 completed amidst all the other unanticipated precautionary measures.

It was not long before the first official lockdown was announced when the school authorities declared a Summer Break. We ensured the students' smooth return to their homes without further delay. The books for the next session were packed in each students' luggage before they left, primarily made possible due to proactive decision-making and quick response during this adversity. The lockdown ended our "traditional classes". Yet, our high-quality educational curriculum continued for the Board Classes. Urgent faculty meetings were held to discuss the challenges where we decided to conduct online classes using Zoom from 22nd March. This mammoth task was made possible with the judicious use of technology, and the combined efforts and cooperation of the faculty, the students, and the IT administrators. Remarkably and quickly, the teachers and the students adjusted to this novel method. While the students enjoyed their summer break from 1st April, we accelerated our preparations back at school, exploring several online teaching and assessment tools like Zoom, Microsoft Teams, Google Classroom, and ERP Fedena, to complement the classroom culture with the virtual space. The teachers worked indefatigably to adapt and prepare for the smooth transition from "the marker" to "the click" pedagogy.

Besides being an excellent form of professional development, online teaching helped achieving an upward learning curve. The school forged ahead with the procurement of new and upgraded technology. We collaborated with Extra-marks - The Learning App which could be downloaded on a mobile phone or a tab for improved learning of the students. Having rebuilt the entire classroom community in a digital space, new policies pertaining to online Teaching Learning (T-L) were framed and communicated to the parents and students. For students' online safety and privacy, a set of guidelines was drafted to protect them from inappropriate online content. Innumerable sessions were conducted to train the students on the nuances of virtual classes. We structured the daily schedule to accommodate both academics and co-curricular activities, equally. Apart from regular academic learning, girls attended music, dance, and art lessons. We also ensured adequate breaks between classes. Beginning the day with a morning assembly, attending sports and preps in the evening, gave our students a holistic virtual school experience. We introduced marking of attendance in every lesson to ascertain their participation and punctuality. The entire teaching faculty put their best foot forward to champion the T-L process and ensured that the academic schedule was maintained right from the onset of classes on Microsoft Teams.

Communicating on platforms such as Teams, especially with cameras turned off, is extremely tricky! We discovered how good girls are at hide and seek. But they could not, by any chance, beat their teachers at it who spotted them every time. Bearing in mind the possible technical glitches, we introduced several innovative techniques for effective communication in class. We were able to successfully address the disciplinary issues by collaborating with the parents. The seamless flow of the classes is a testimony of the UWS family's ability to adapt to modern technology, which is a rare feat. Our next challenge was the Half Yearly Examinations. Various options for online exams with proctoring were explored. Microsoft Teams, and Exam.net were used together for this purpose. For continuous development of our learners, we focused on 'Assessment for learning' which included projects, PPT's, collaborative learning, peer and self-assessment, to sharpen their critical thinking and creativity.

Tools such as Kahoot, Mentimeter, Hot Potato, Edpuzzle, and worksheets on Microsoft Teams were predominantly used to assess their progress and understand their learning needs. Teachers flipped the classroom to develop the language, communication, and technical skills of the learners and assess their understanding and progress.

Besides age-and content-appropriate formative assessment and feedback, we strongly practised grading learners' work at key times for significantly engaging their attention.

We place a significant premium on our learners' Happiness Quotient (HQ) as happy learners are better learners. To this end, we availed our learners' online counselling to help them through these trying times. We also introduced online aerobics, yoga and meditation sessions for students, and parents are welcome to join.

Together, we managed to power through the academic year. Next year, the entire episode of virtual learning may be a memory but with a lasting impact, stretching the minds and imaginations of teachers and students alike.

“Unquestionably I’m going to be a better teacher. It’s made me rethink how I teach.”

ZOOMING IN CARE

The Year 2020 made all of us adapt ourselves to the new normal. Besides the academic challenge, it was difficult to monitor the wellbeing of every girl but nothing could deter us from our duty. We transacted with the students, old and new, not only in the academic class hours but also outside the confines of the online classrooms. Chalet in charges and the Assistant Chalet in charges interacted with their students online initially on Zoom, a teleconferencing app and later they began to schedule Team meetings to make it more convenient for the girls. It was not a smooth path for any of us, we encountered several potholes on the way. However, we continued filling all of them, creating a smooth way to keep in touch with our children.

We first addressed the girls in groups and then one on one interactions evolved, involving girls in storytelling, puzzles and presenting videos based on emotional intelligence. Another mode of interaction was an online quiz based on e-learning, Time Management and Character Building. Girls responded to this fun quiz enthusiastically which opened new doors to innovative ways of looking after their wellbeing. The bond that we have with our girls is very special.

The chalet in charges, with their tireless efforts, maintained this special bond with every Uthena through daily interactions, pep talks and sharing of daily routines. They regularly interacted with the girls to help them cope and adjust with the changed environment around them.

Through Professional Development Programme for the Chalet in charges and Assistant Chalet in charges, we ensured that they were well equipped to meet the challenge that virtual interaction posed. Although the girls were miles away, we were just a click away to help them, always connected and looking after their needs. I would end with a quote I had read some time ago: 'Relationships don't last because of the good times; they last because the hard times were handled with love and care.'

FORGING FUTURE

“The future depends on what you do today.”

~ Mahatma Gandhi

We at Unison prepared to overcome the hurdles that online platform provided, and continued to guide our students through webinars and online interactions to enable them to make better choices for their future.

To begin with, we had Univariety to help with career counselling.

We understand that the sooner students know their goal, the better it is for them. Therefore, we had ‘Profile Completion Webinars’ for the students from Grade VIII to XII.

Thereafter, in Online Graduate open days with University of Melbourne, Australia, the girls were apprised of the courses offered and the criteria of admission and scholarship.

Various others aspects such as boarding and lodging on campus, fee structure, were discussed in detail to help the girls make prudent decisions later.

Ashoka University in the virtual visit discussed about the emerging field of Liberal Arts in India. The girls had a better understanding of careers related to this field.

School routine keeps the students engaged in several activities which help them grow and mature. However, due to the pandemic, they were locked in their homes which gave rise to our worry and we organised a webinar 'How to utilize time at home' for our students from Grades VIII to X. Mr. Jitin Chawla, a renowned Career counsellor in India, discussed with the children how they could use their time effectively at home during the pandemic, and develop an understanding of how utilization of one's time at this hour could also contribute to their college in the near future. This session made the students understand the value of profile building besides constructive use of time. Not only were we focused on the career counselling of the students but also on training our teachers to handle the unfamiliar situation. A session for our teachers was taken by Ms. Mimansa Singh, Lead Clinical Psychologist at The Fortis group. Ms. Singh deliberated on the importance of understanding mental health and empowering teachers to notice the first signs of emotional turmoil in a student. She mentioned that the classroom is an important sphere of development as well as an agent of change in a child's life. To add some colour and creativity to the webinar, 'The Psyche of Unison', a Poster Making & Painting Competition, was organized. Another webinar was organized to emphasize on Career Choices (with new age careers) and University analysis for students of Grades XI and XII.

This webinar was conducted in conjunction with The Centre for Career Development. The students were updated on emerging career options and their future. A webinar with Milan's best fashion school, Instituto Marangoni, was organized on Luxury brands in fashion and more where the girls were explained about the career in the field of fashion and they could study it at the epicenter of fashion – Milan. Every session enabled the girls to widen their horizons in terms of career and college planning. These interactions aimed at guiding the young minds and helping them utilize their time more effectively.

HEALTH IS WEALTH

Participation in Sports and Fitness activities continued to be a regular feature for our students even when online was the only mode of communication. We overcame all the barriers of space and conducted virtual sports and fitness activities in the morning and evening for all the students to keep them healthy and fit. While the practices of shooting continued via online guidance from our coaches, the students of other sports were provided with fitness training required to excel in their sport. The sport time table was set up with care to give every student enough physical training as well as rest. Aerobics & Zumba, Strength and Balance, Core strength, Circuit Training, Bodyweight Plyometrics, and Yoga and meditation were organised to ensure interesting rotation of workouts. Our trained and experienced staff designed exclusive methods to ensure that the girls gained physical strength and enjoyed every activity.

Fitness test for students was adapted to the new normal situation. The interactive classes were made interesting with the new idea of allowing the students to throw challenges at each other and also at the teacher. Aerobics aimed at improving cardiorespiratory endurance of the students along with the movement and coordination skills, which was the demand of the hour. Improving the physical strength along with the mental strength of the students was of paramount importance. Yoga and meditation classes were specially held to improve relaxation and reduce stress of the students thereby leading to improved mental health. Nothing can thwart the spirit of Uthana, she is forever prepared to combat challenges and defeat them. The girls carried on with the shooting sport classes and successfully participated in an inter school tournament. They attended many talk shows to learn more about sports and improve their skills. They remained motivated to reach their best potential even with online guidance. The challenge offered by the pandemic was quickly accepted by the teachers and students alike, and we as a school managed to sail smoothly through the tough times, encouraging our students to keep fit and adopt a healthy lifestyle. Overall, the challenge offered by the pandemic was quickly accepted by the teachers and students alike and we, as a school, managed to sail through the tough times while carrying on to encourage our students in keeping fit for life.

FEAR AND FORTITUDE

With the fear of uncertainty as the only constant, Covid-19 pandemic led to a large majority of people feeling stressed, powerless and anxious. While grappling with the demands of changing times, we restored our faith in resilience. Focused attention to health and wellbeing emerged as a way for us to better equip our girls and gain control amidst this state of powerlessness. We, at Unison World School, strive to constantly evolve our strategy to keep up with the dynamic nature of the times. A good way to start was to address the stigma surrounding the concept of mental health, which if ignored results in undermined issues. Therefore, iterations in the form of presentations, discussions, and webinars were conducted, which helped in achieving this goal. Adolescents who prefer researching online, rely on the information which could be inaccurate or misleading. Thus, it became imperative for us to resolve queries related to such information and spread awareness; keeping in mind age-appropriate delivery of information to them.

“Life is like riding a bicycle, to keep your balance, you must keep moving”

Albert Einstein

Counselling for our children became mandatory as we were conscious of the fact that depression and anxiety affect adolescents. Hence, regular conversations were conducted which enabled us to know their stress or emotional upheaval. Through regular group sessions along with the individual sessions, we identified changes in their demeanour and rendered help.

A common concern that emerged in several sessions was mental drain. All referred to the feeling of tiredness because of mental exhaustion. Although a single stressor is easy to cope with, a compilation of stressors can be a challenge. The same effect was seen in case of prolonged exposure to the same stressor. The students tried to balance all at once: their school schedule, home engagements, curtailed outings, college applications. They were trying to cope with the emotional demands that arise from the missed experiences. Virtual interaction ensured no lapse in education; however, the lack of physical interaction during lockdown, took a toll on them, and so we stepped in to make this transition easy.

As the saying goes, distance makes the heart grow fonder, almost in all the sessions, the girls spoke of returning to school with their friends. The undefined nature of this state left many confused, leading to its impact often ignored. It would be safe to assume that social media is capable of putting an invisible pressure on our youth.

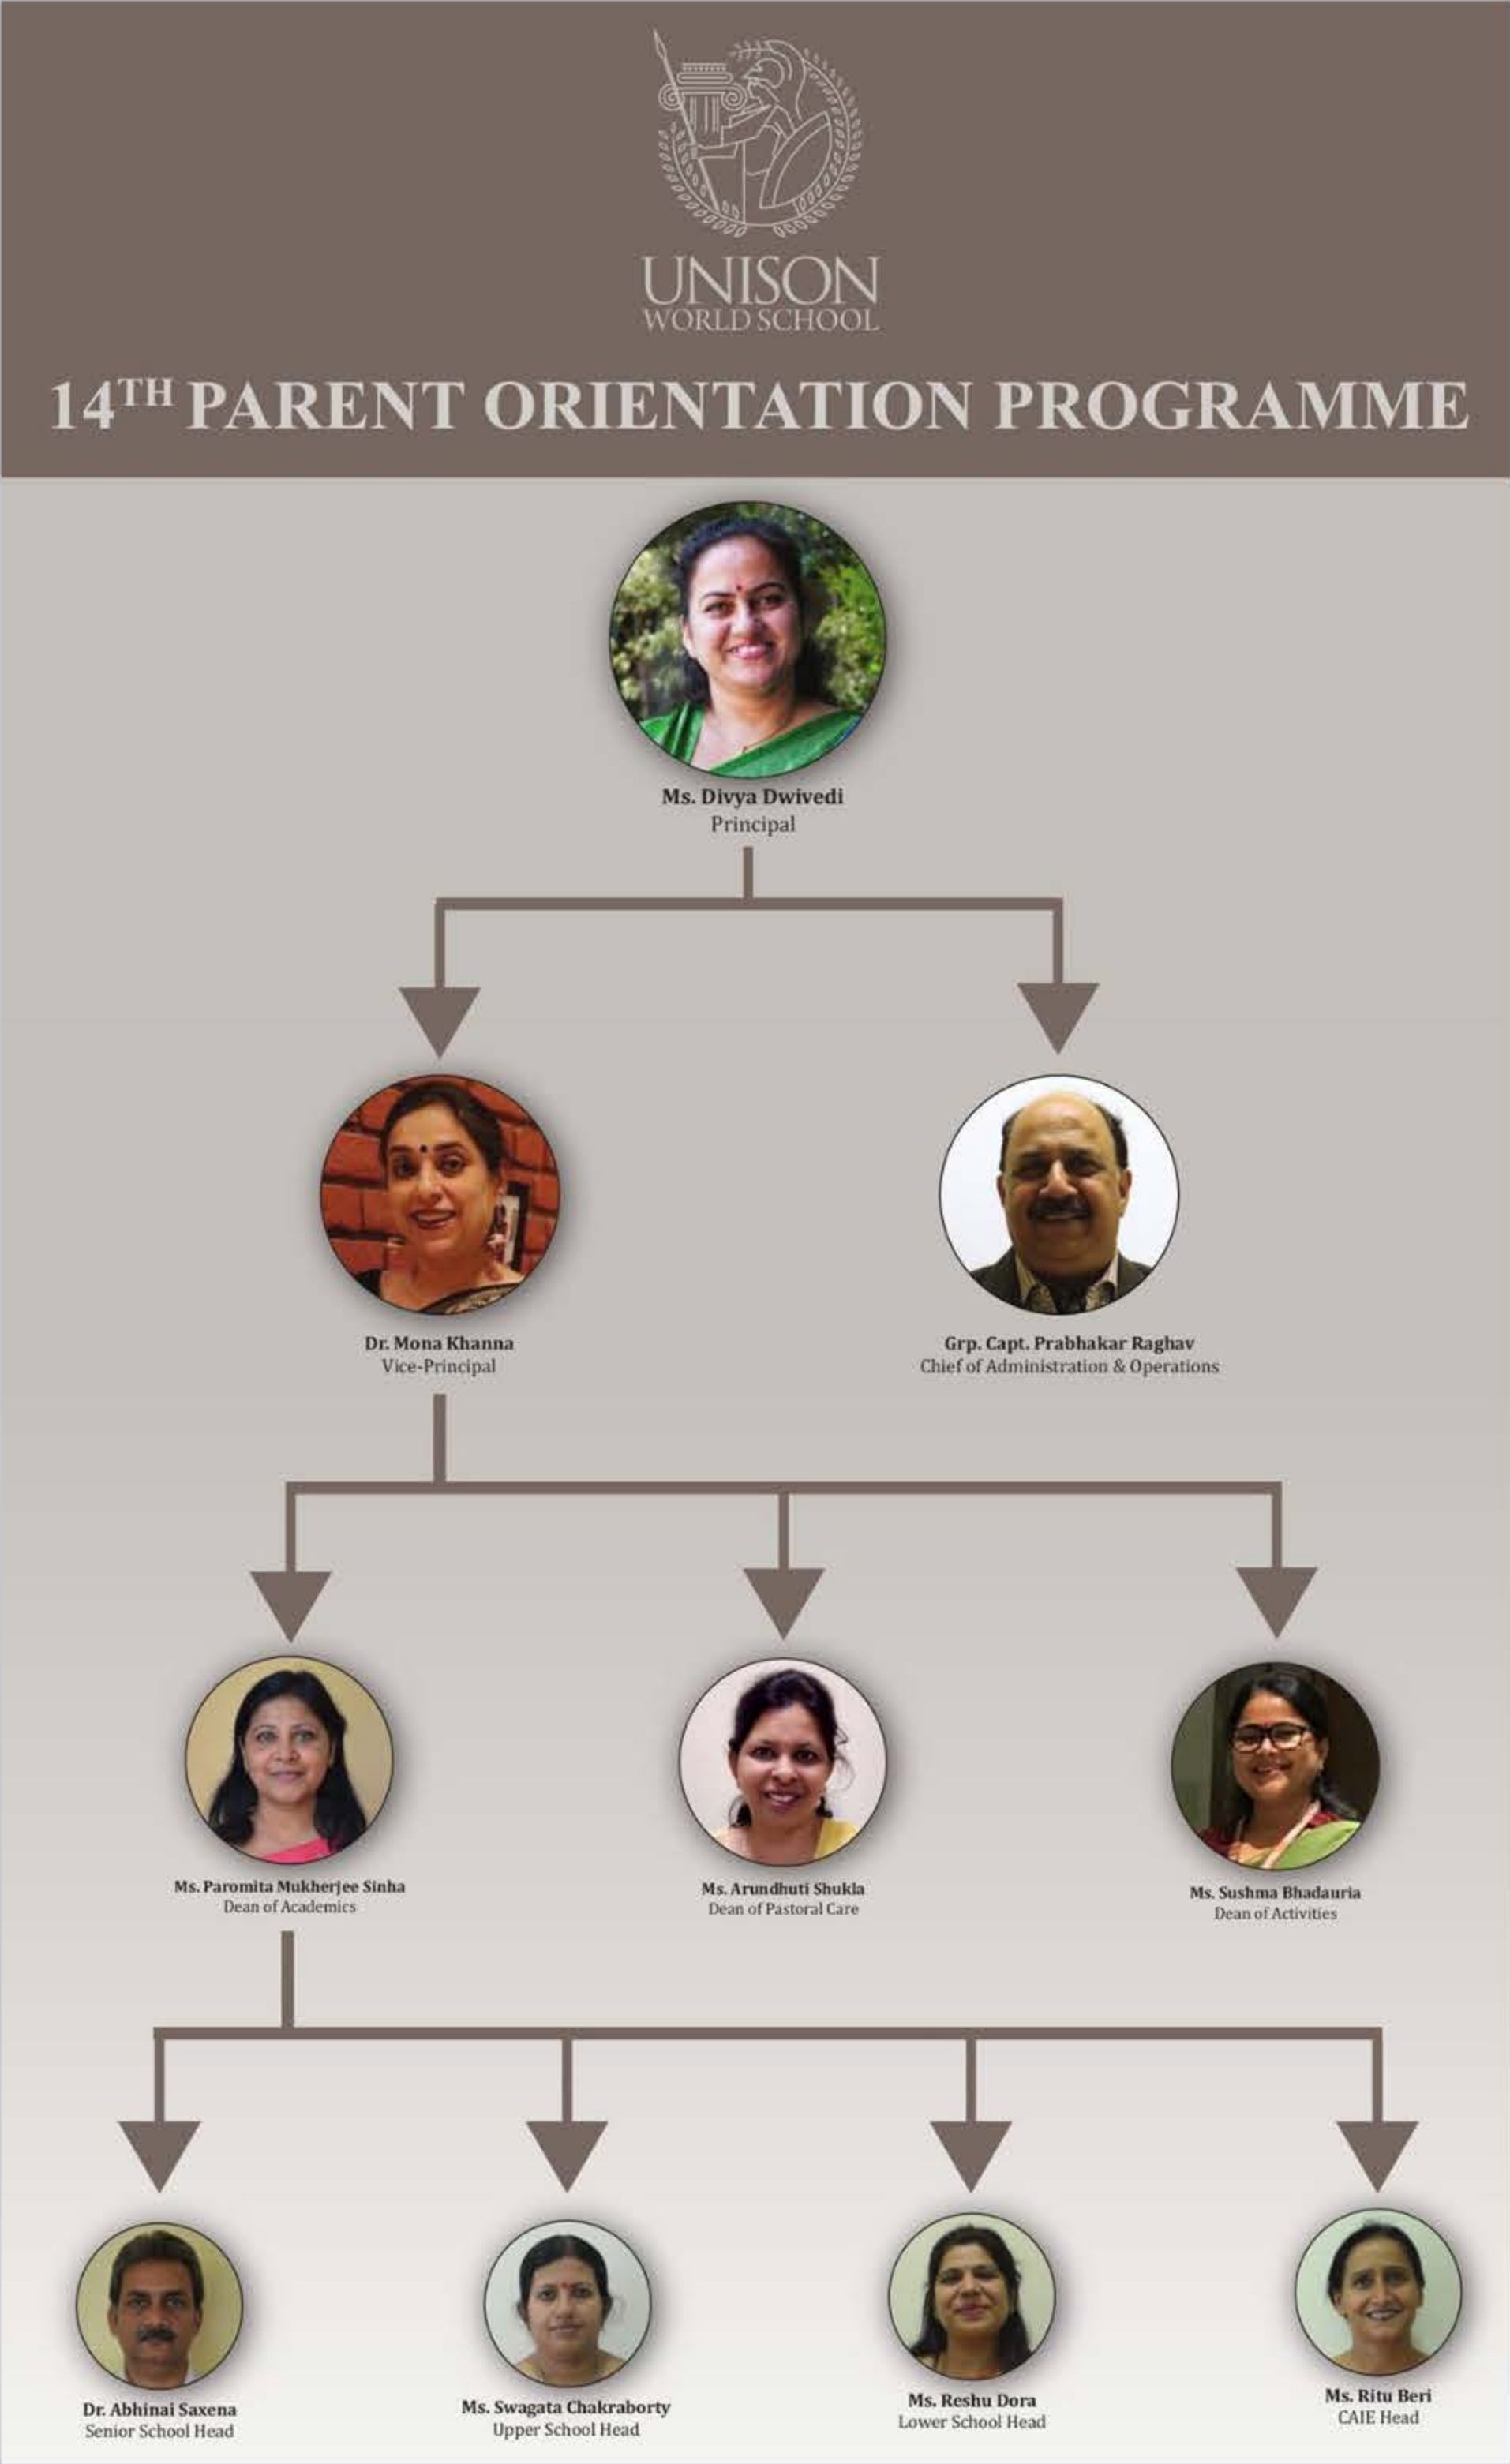

Keeping up with the façade of online existence along with inter-personal interactions shifting online, can be a lot to take in for anyone, especially students in a boarding school, who are not used to extended dependency on their phones.

Communication is the foundation of any relationship. Just by keeping in touch with one another we have extended the hand of kindness which is essential today. Along with this mantra for mental wellbeing, ‘Resilience’ is the need of the hour. It gives humanity the hope to emerge stronger than the challenge at hand. No matter how overwhelming, humans possess the ability to overcome every crisis. All one needs is to identify what is needed to get back to the state of normalcy and find time to do it. I will conclude with a quote that resonates with the effort put in by every member of the Unison family – students, parents and teachers.

ONLINE PARENT ORIENTATION MEET

On 21st April, 2020, Unison World School successfully conducted its first ever Online Parent Orientation Meet. Mrs. Divya Dwivedi, Principal UWS, spoke about ethos of the school and introduced the key members impacting the students' life at UWS.

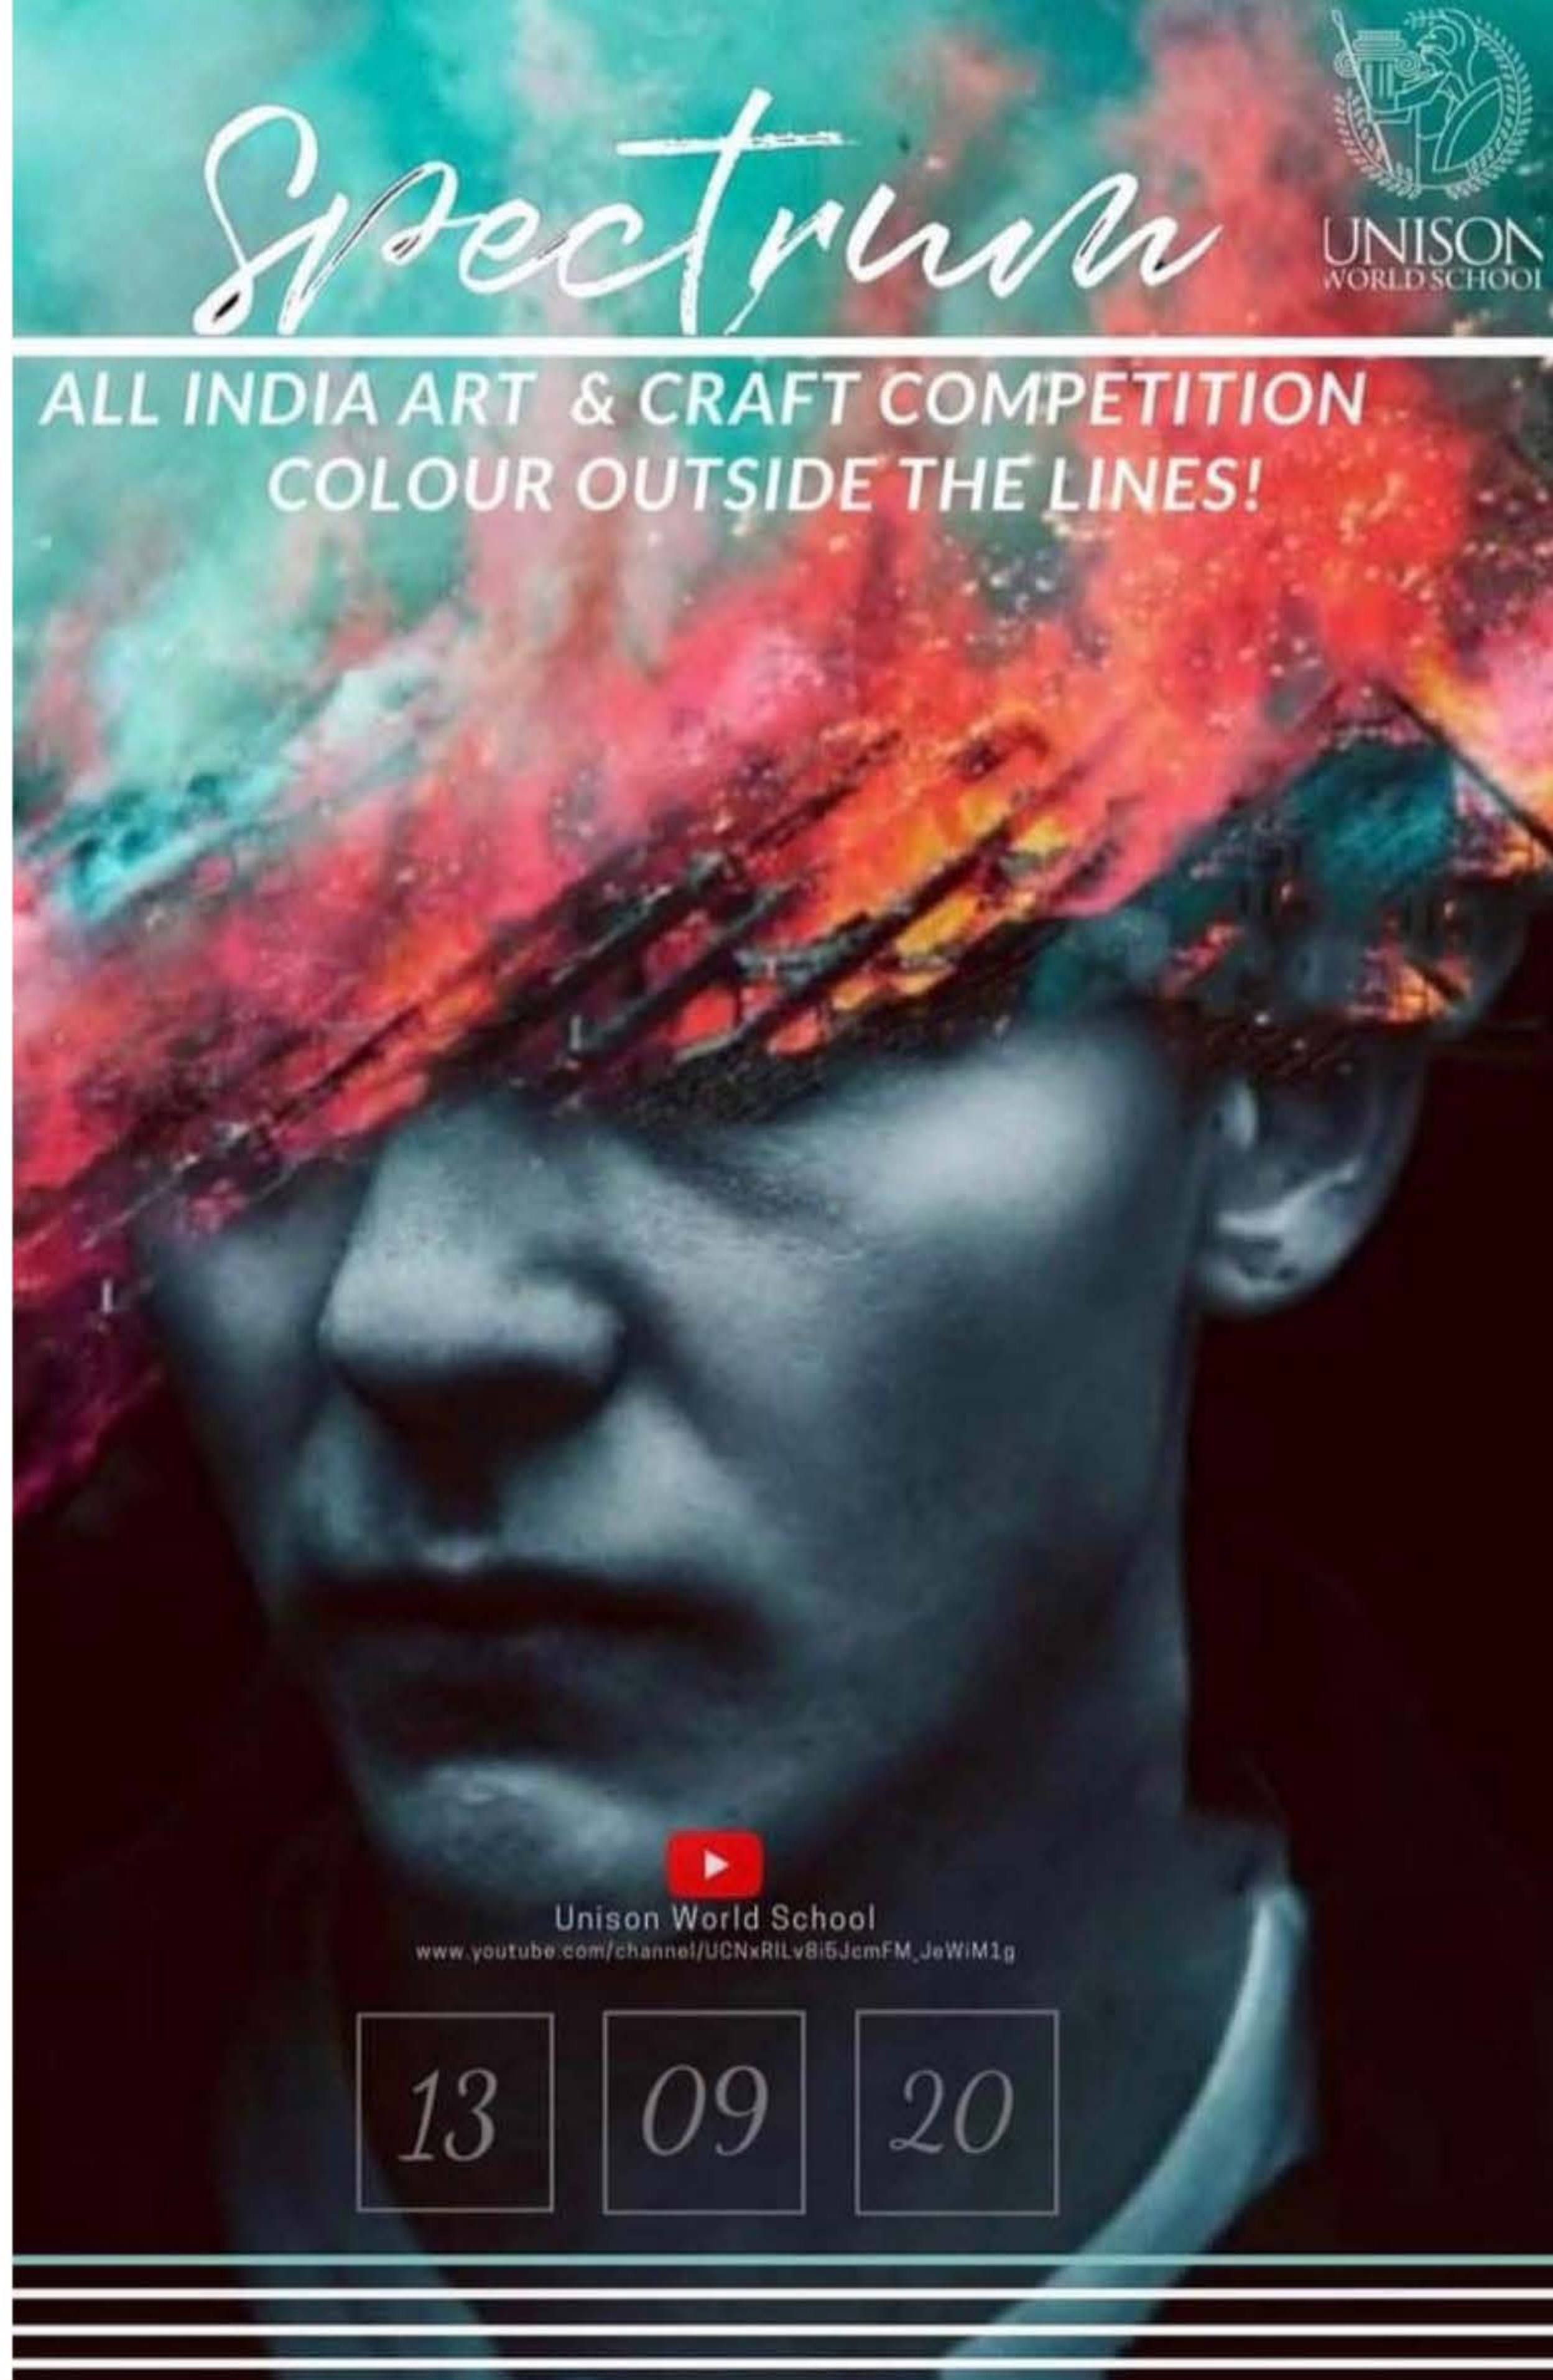

This orientation programme served as a sneak peek into the life of students at Unison. Both, new parents as well as the new students, were apprised of the virtual classes and other modes of learning. Effective learning strategies adopted by the institution were also shared with them.

Magnum Opus

SPECTRUM

Spectrum 2020 —All India Inter-School Art & Craft Competition, Online Edition, was a goldmine for the students who are passionate about art. The virtual competition was organized by the school on 13th September, 2020, for students of all grades from all over India. This year, Mr. Alope Tirtha Bhowmick, Artist & Educationist, Founder and Chairman of Dada's Academy, inspired the students as he graced the occasion as the Chief Guest. The event commenced with lighting of the ceremonial lamp followed by the opening ceremony. The school counselor threw light on the significant role of art during this pandemic for better mental health and living. About 270 students from several renowned schools across the nation participated in twelve unique events based on different forms of art. The panel of judges comprised established artists, curators, designers, photographers, writers, researchers, publishers, bloggers and educationists.

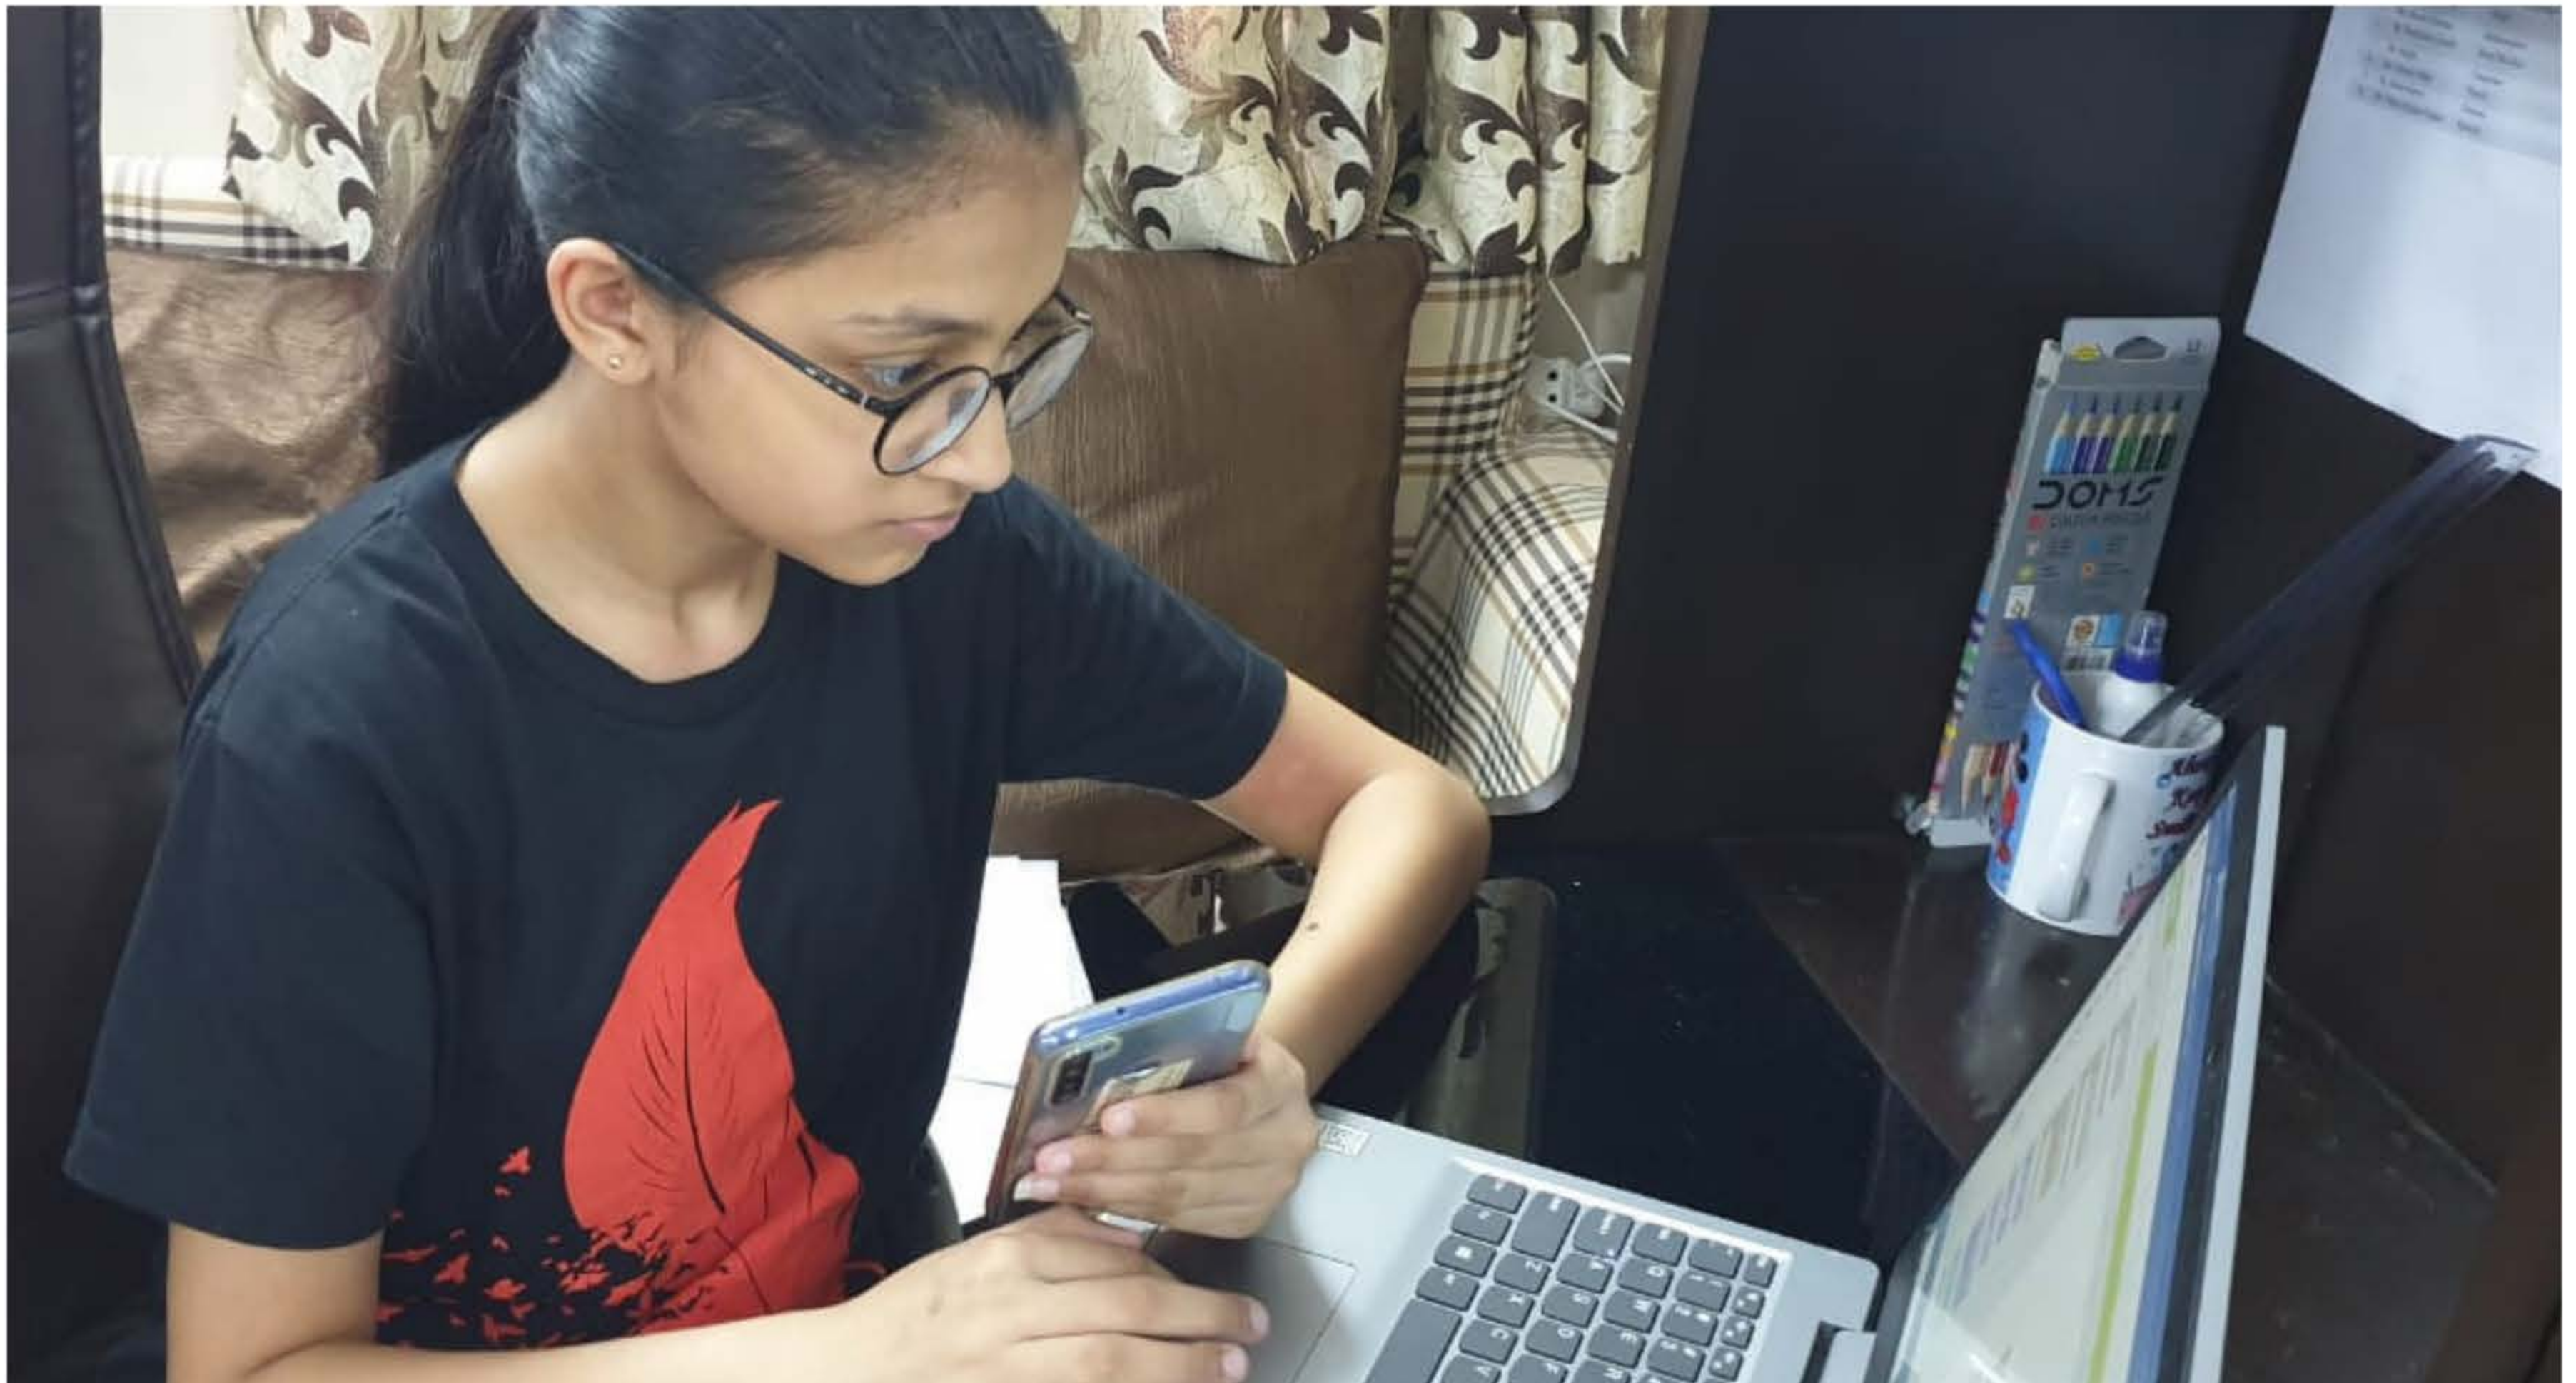

As the competition was online, the participants sent in their best entries. Their unique approach and expression were highly appreciated by the judges. Selecting the winners, from the talent galore, was indeed a daunting task for them. Awards for different art categories were bestowed on adroit artists who impressed the judges with their exclusive work. Jayshree Periwal High School, Jaipur, won the Rolling Trophy – Spectrum 2020, for overall performance and the runners up was Hopetown Girls' School, Dehradun.

INTER-SCHOOL APP DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP ± HACKATHON

Maa Anandmayee Memorial School conducted an Inter-School App Development Workshop + Hackathon that commenced on Sunday 19th July, 2020.

This four-week workshop attended by the students from Grades V to VIII, taught them to create their own apps using MIT App Inventor.

They learnt new techniques of working with different app blocks, doodling, creating games and quizzes on the Android platform.

The girls created Rakhi Secret Message App' for their brothers, and "Water Conservation" app to display the usage and techniques of purifying rain water and putting it to good use.

INTER-SCHOOL FINE ARTS COMPETITION

DISTILLING AND MOULDING CREATIVITY

Creativity is not just an ability but a custom for Uthenas. They explore different art forms and burn the candle at both ends to polish their skills. They worked their fingers to the bone for the Virtual Inter-School Competitions of Fine Arts which were held from June to September, 2020. The pandemic could not thwart their spirit and the girls zealously participated in several competitions organised by Waste Warriors, Dehradun. IMPORTANCE OF PHYSICAL FITNESS IN SPORTS

Everyone has the fire, but the champions know when to ignite the spark

Unison World School, being the prestigious institution it is, proves to be the epitome of excellence as it provides its students with the best, most advantageous resources to inculcate in them the qualities that stand as the motto of the school: Honour, Discipline and Integrity. To live a long and healthy life one has to be fit at both physical and mental levels. In one of the school's many endeavours to instil these traits in each of the girls, the sports department organised an online talk-show with Mr. Azad Singh.

Mr. Azad Singh, besides being an exceptionally skilled sportsman is the Physical Coordinator of the Sports Authority of India, the Physical Conditioning Coach for the Indian Shooting, the former coach of the Indian Basketball Team and of the Indian Air Force Basketball Team.

The sessions with Mr. Singh were held on 21st and 23rd July, 2020 for the senior school and the school shooting team. Mr. Singh taught the eager students various beneficial exercises that help improve core strength, body balance, flexibility, upper body and lower body coordination by the means of isometric moves. It seems surreal how hours ticked away unrealised. The year 2019-20 brought with it reasons to rejoice and sometimes regret in ways none could have anticipated. The world-wide crisis due to 'COVID-19' stirred and hampered our routines, but could not dampen our spirits. With unassailable determination and faith, each of us unleashed disparate abilities within us which not only carved a rare layer over our personality but also made us realise that impossibility is just a suppressing feeling and never a trait. It is on us, our way and our perception towards things, which decides our potential. With dripping pride, I can certify that the girls grew past every impediment, overcoming them with endurance and rightly upholding the motto of the house: Modesty.

The colour of our house infuses in us intense and passionate attributes like ambition, courage, confidence, and compassion. The girls of Daffodil House are multi-faceted and overbrim with everlasting passion for the house. Be it art, music, dance, dramatics, sports or academics, they are a mine of immeasurable talent. Home-schooling certainly took a toll on each one of us. However, we gradually learnt to conquer every deterrent and turned every defeat to victory.

Rolling past the academics, the girls added honour to the house by winning the Inter-House Hindi Debate, Fancy Dress cum Elocution and Film Review Competition. Further, their involvement in the creative and artistic section brought another set of innumerable victories to the house. Inter-House Mandana, Graphics, Movie Making, Flower Making, Block Printing, Digital Cartooning, Digital Movie Poster Making, Salad Decoration, Hand Lettering, Nail Art, Drawing Through the Window- Painting and Rakhi Making Competition, were some of our achievements.

With their tapping feet, melodious voices and incredible performing abilities, the house also backed the first position in Inter-House Western Dance, Group Folk Dance, Solo-Singing and Mime Competition.

With rushing adrenaline and athletic spirit, the girls of the house flourished in sports and fitness quarters as well. The house won several accolades in competitions ranging from Inter-House Tennis Tournament, Yoga, Football Tournament, Table Tennis Tournament, Basketball Tournament, Athletics, March Past to Shooting Quiz, Surya Namaskar, Plank Walk, Brahmari Prayanama, Legs Scissors and Ball Rotation Around the Body Competition.

We shared our joys, celebrated our triumphs and learnt from our defeats.

As a Prefect of the house, I am sincerely grateful to all the members of the house who rendered support and contributed in its progress. I led my house with only one motive, which revolves around a philosophical belief - Our ulterior motive should not be other's failure but our victory. Firmly resting my faith in it, I continued to silently work for the house.

With the tireless nights in our minds and joyful moments in our hearts, we as a whole worked and prospered throughout the journey. I take this opportunity to thank my mentors for carefully guiding me and helping me to progress.

I had never expected that I would be elected as the Jasmine House Prefect for the year 2020. It was exhilarating for me to be an office bearer and I was proud to be a part of the Student Council.

Shakespeare rightly said, 'Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown.' As soon as I was given the badge, I knew I will have to fulfil my duties and responsibilities towards the House sincerely. Soon the thrill and excitement of being a Prefect gradually began to fade giving way to anxiety. Spending tedious hours in corridors communicating with the girls, organising and encouraging some during recess and leisure time, was a new challenge.

The biggest challenge was to maintain a fine balance between academics and my responsibilities as a House Prefect during this pandemic situation. With the assistance of my Vice Prefect and guidance of my House Coordinator, I received a hands-on experience of how one could make a positive difference virtually.

From organizing participants for competitions, closely monitoring and motivating them on virtual platforms and WhatsApp groups, I learnt how to manage my time and also enjoy interacting with my peers. Every competition, every event brought new challenges and responsibilities. I faced every challenge with grit and courage because winning or losing never concerned me, my sole aim was to do my best. Due to this, countless memories have been created with the members of my House.

Competitive zeal and indomitable will power was found to be truly alive in the students of the House. This spirited endeavour of the students brought laurels to the House in many fields.

Jasmine House won several Fine Arts, Performing Arts, Academic and Sports events. The Inter House Wall Magazine Competition, Photography Competition, Be Your Favorite Character Competition, Documentary Film Competition, Beat Boxing Competition, Cartoon Yourself

Competition, Social Science Quiz, Online competition on Happy World Photography Day and MFL Quiz need a special mention here. All this was possible because of the tireless effort and dedication of our talented scholars and performers.

Being a House Prefect was a major part in my development as a leader. It taught me the tenet of service before self. More importantly, the experience enabled me to develop the ability to work as a team, improve on my leadership skills, gain more confidence and also improve my communication skills. By prioritizing my work, I learnt how to tackle problems before they became an emergency. If I wouldn't have been a House Prefect, I would have never grown into a person I am today. I am greatly thankful to all the members of my house, my mentors and my peers for helping me through this journey and making it a memorable one.

Orchid, a flower that symbolizes love, grace, luxury and strength, mixed with our motto 'Serenity' perfectly describes the utopian mindset that we, the students of Orchid House, value. Everyone in Orchid House have the courage to face every storm with tranquility and rise after every fall. All the students are exceptionally talented and passionate who, in every way possible, have contributed towards the betterment of the house.

"Leadership is an action, not a position." I, in no case, was a natural-born leader. Last year I was elected as the Orchid House Vice prefect, I had very little idea of what was expected of me. Getting an opportunity to take over the legacy from some outstanding leaders like Khushi Gupta (Orchid House Prefect 2019-20) is an honour but at the same time it comes with a lot of responsibilities.

Orchid House, taught me a lot about myself and leadership. A leader is not someone who stands on top and commands, but the one who knows the team and guides it towards success. When I see my juniors looking up to me for guidance, it fills me with confidence and there is no mountain which is insurmountable. Supporting shoulders of the seniors of our house have always been there with me through thick and thin, and I know that I can always rely on them. We always worked as a team and together paved the path for success.

Standing first was never our priority, we know we would always be winners in our own way if we worked meticulously and gave equal opportunities to every house member. Although this year posed new challenges with covid-19 skimming every corner of this world and the girls working from their homes, we did not lose hope. All inter-house competitions were online. Having said this, the online medium also opened a new window of several interesting competitions that could take place. Though there were times when we stumbled on few obstacles, we were happy to see that our girls didn't lose their fervor and were quick in adapting the new normal. Each house member zealously invested time and energy in all the proceedings of the house.

With hard work and perseverance, we moved ahead in our journey, adding feathers to our hats at every step and polishing our skills. We arduously worked to prove our excellence in multiple spheres including academics, fine arts, performing arts and sports. The skilled students of the house brought home laurels by bagging the first position in several competitions including the Inter-House Fusion Dance, Inter-House Western Dance, Inter-House Hindi Extempore, Inter-House Best out of Waste, Inter-House Bhramari Pranayama, Inter-House Single Leg Balance, and others.

At the end I would like to say that with the constant support of our House Coordinator, the opportunities given to us by our school authorities and the team spirit of every member, we have evolved and progressed. We have to believe in ourselves for there are no secrets to success. It is the result of preparation, hard work, teamwork and learning from failure.

Honesty, is the motto of Tulip House and also an encouraging beacon light for all its members. In the previous years, we all have been guided by it. When I was elected as the prefect of Tulip House, little did I know that the house will become such an important part of me. There were so many responsibilities I had to carry but none of them felt like a burden because I had all the support of the house. During the times when there seemed to be no way out of a problem and when I felt vulnerable, exhausted and wanted to escape and procrastinate, I was reminded of all those who chose me as their representative, putting their trust and expectations in me, which gave rise to a sense of accountability in me that kept me going. I am very grateful to everyone for having given me this chance of serving my house. My term as the Tulip House Prefect has added a lot to my personality and my character: I have gained tremendously in many ways; I have realized what responsibility means;

and both these have taught me to act upon my words at the right time.

Working together with a common goal of winning, as the driving force, with full zeal and the house spirit, is something instinctive and its joy is inexpressible. But at the end of the day, winning or losing does not matter more than the efforts we put in together. I remember how we console each other when we lose and rejoice in our victory. While preparing for the Inter-House competitions, we actually learn more than we can actually think of.

Some of the achievements of Tulip House in the Inter-House competitions include: won Dumbbell Holding competition; second in the upper school category of English Parliamentary Debate and secured the first place in the Senior category of the same; bagged the third position in the Social Science quiz; got the third position in the Hindi Elocution competition; stood first in the 'Chakrasan' competition; got the second place in the Hindi Extempore while stood first in the English Extempore; bagged the third place in the Ball Rotation Around the Body; secured the first position in the Mathematics Quiz; stood second in the Hindi Debate; secured the first position in Web Designing; the second place in the Single Leg Balance on toes; and many more.

Tulip House has always grown together, no matter how difficult the time may have been; we have supported each other through thick and thin. We compete with our own potential with honesty. I am very grateful to all the members of Tulip House for their trust invested in me and their support throughout my tenure as the House Prefect. I hope the house continues to grow in the future while retaining its basic values and upholding the motto of the house.

"Success is not final; failure is not fatal; it is the courage to continue that counts."
